

REQUEST FOR QUALIFICATIONS

I. OVERVIEW

1. Background:

The City of Oceanside has the unique opportunity to develop a 465-acre parcel of city-owned land in the heart of the City; the property has been named “El Corazon”, which means “heart” in Spanish. The development of the area will be directed by the El Corazon Specific Plan. The El Corazon Specific Plan has designated the property for a blend of open space and habitat area, passive and active recreational uses, commercial and office development, and a residential vertical mixed-use component. El Corazon is intended to be a comfortable place for Oceanside residents and visitors to Oceanside to gather, shop, stroll, play, and relax. The transition to this balance of land uses over time will create a unique activity point that is the heart of Oceanside.

The vision for El Corazon is to create a 465 acre park in the center of Oceanside with a rural look and feel to the trails, roads and amenities so that the park provides an escape from city life. El Corazon will be shaped into an identifiable and inviting place with an abundance of park spaces and a selection of commercial, residential and community activity such as:

- Commercial development characterized by intimate streetscapes lined with unique storefronts (i.e. Village Commercial District), as well as larger-scale retail and office complexes (i.e. Oceanside Boulevard Commercial District) and community/public gathering areas.
- Hotel uses that will accommodate visitors to the park and the entire City.
- A residential vertical mixed-use component within the commercial development districts.
- Community recreation sites that offer children and adults places to play and be active, as well as to relax and enjoy the natural environment.
- Recreation facilities planned at El Corazon include both traditional and non-traditional activities such as fields which can be used for soccer and other field sports, baseball and softball, playgrounds, passive recreational spaces, an aquatic center and a skateboarding and BMX park.
- Habitat conservation areas will provide protection for endangered plant and animal species and will maintain a section of the natural environment within the bounds of a growing city.

2. Objective

The City of Oceanside wants to explore all of its development options related to El Corazon to achieve the objective of developing El Corazon in accordance with the Specific Plan in a timely manner with the least public cost. The City's participation in the development of El Corazon could range from acting as the master developer and working directly with tenants and recreational operators to only leasing the land to a master developer. The City's involvement could also be participating in a joint venture or other type of development partnership. At this point in time, the City is interested in looking into the option of soliciting statements of qualifications from master developers wishing to develop the entire site; developers experienced in the development of individual recreational facilities, land development projects, commercial developments and/or residential vertical mixed-use developments; and from recreational operators and representatives of major tenants.

This RFQ is intended to create opportunities for a wide variety of teams to potentially undertake portions of this project; or to potentially have one master developer. For example, a team may include a land developer, a recreation facilities developer, and a commercial developer or a team may consist of a commercial developer, a recreational operator, and representatives from commercial and recreational major tenants. Soliciting qualifications from a variety of types of developers will place the City of Oceanside in the best position for realizing the community vision for El Corazon in the near future.

* Please be advised that any entity, company and/or individual or combination thereof submitting a statement of qualifications does so with the express understanding that the City of Oceanside reserves the right to select certain entities, companies, and/or individuals, or a combination thereof, which includes, but is not limited to selecting members of different teams, who the City believes would best serve the overall development and intent of the El Corazon project. This right also includes the City acting as the master developer. Entities, companies, and/or individuals so selected will be asked to submit a Request for Proposal at a future date, as modified if so required. Further, notwithstanding the issuance of this RFQ and the receipt of responses thereto, the City also reserves the right to pursue other development options related to El Corazon in addition to the options described above and/or to reject all statements of qualifications.

3. City of Oceanside Summary:

The City of Oceanside, located in northern San Diego County, is a picturesque Pacific Coast community located only 35 miles north of the City of San Diego and 83 miles south of Los Angeles. The City of Oceanside is situated along Interstate 5 in a prime Southern California location. The City is bordered by the Pacific Ocean to the west, natural habitat areas of the U.S. Marine Corps Base - Camp Pendleton to the north and semi-rural development to the east. To the south, the City begins the transition into the growing metropolis of the San Diego region.

Oceanside residents enjoy a blend of coastal beauty, breathtaking vistas, and a wide variety of lifestyles and activities. The City of Oceanside encompasses 42 square miles and enjoys cultural and ethnic diversity among its 178,000 citizens. The City has more than 30 parks, 2 public golf courses and 217 acres of parkland, not counting El Corazon. Additionally, Oceanside is the home to 3.5 miles of sandy beaches, a municipal fishing pier, a harbor with restaurants and shops, a municipal airport, popular bike trails along the San Luis Rey River and the Coastal Rail Path and the historic San Luis Rey Mission.

II. BACKGROUND

1. Property Description:

The 465 acre El Corazon property is surrounded by the following major streets within the City of Oceanside - El Camino Real to the west, Mesa Drive to the north, Rancho del Oro Drive as the eastern boundary, and Oceanside Boulevard as the southerly boundary. Due to limited access and steep slopes, as well as the former use of the site as a mining operation, the property was isolated from surrounding development for an extended period of time. The orientation and elevation of El Corazon creates distant views of the Pacific Ocean, hills and riparian corridors.

2. History of El Corazon:

In 1994, approximately 465 acres of vacant property was donated to the City of Oceanside by the U.S. Silica Company. The property was previously used for mineral mining operations for six decades. Due to its location at the geographical center of the Oceanside City limits, the property was given the name “El Corazon de Oceanside” meaning the “Heart of Oceanside” in Spanish.

In 1995 following the acquisition of the property, the City Council directed City staff to develop a long-range plan to create a “Vision” which would help guide the general land use for the newly acquired property. The City staff asked citizens to participate in the vision concepts and encouraged participation in establishing a common goal for El Corazon. Through public participation an El Corazon de Oceanside Vision Concept was formed and created a Vision Plan.

In 2002, an initiative was placed on the ballot to preserve the land as parkland with up to 20% of the land to be used to create revenue to pay for the park. This initiative was narrowly defeated in November 2002. This community focus led the City Council to establish a new citizens’ planning process. The El Corazon Planning Committee (ECPC) was created.

Building on the prior Vision Plan, the ECPC developed an eleven point goal statement to guide the next level of the planning efforts for El Corazon. Through the efforts of the ECPC and extensive public outreach programs the El Corazon Land Use Master Plan was developed and approved by the City Council in August 2005. The El Corazon Land Use Master Plan provided the basis for the El Corazon Specific Plan and the establishment of a new group, the El Corazon Oversight Committee (ECOC), to assist in the preparation thereof. The ECOC continues to work on the project to this date.

3. El Corazon Specific Plan:

Through the efforts of the ECOC, the El Corazon Specific Plan was recently adopted by the City Council to guide development of the property. As previously mentioned, the development of El Corazon will be in accordance with the El Corazon Specific Plan. The El Corazon Specific Plan divides the site into six districts. For each district, the Specific Plan details a particular vision for future development with development standards, customized allowable uses, and design guidelines that support the scale and character of the districts that ties into the overall vision for El Corazon. The six districts are listed and discussed below and are illustrated on the District Map:

- Parks and Recreation (212 acres)
- Habitat (164 acres)
- Civic Services (34 acres)
- Hotel (11 acres)
- Village Commercial (19 acres)*
- Oceanside Boulevard Commercial (25 acres)*

* These districts can include the 300 residential unit vertical mixed-use component

a. Parks and Recreation District (212 acres)

One of the greatest opportunities El Corazon offers to the local recreational community is the ability to absorb the increased need for more sports fields and park spaces through the 212 acres of Specific Plan Area dedicated to park space. The fields and park spaces will be accessed on the perimeter by roadways and parking areas, and accessed internally by pedestrian paths and a grand pedestrian promenade that bisects the park. Park program elements include fields that can be used for soccer and other field sports, baseball and softball fields as well as passive recreational areas, such as playgrounds, covered picnic pavilions, and open play areas. Park sites may include concessions, restrooms and storage buildings. A docent center will also be located in the Parks and Recreation areas at the trailhead for the Habitat District pedestrian trail system. In the “heart” of the park, a plaza and bandstand will unite the active park and the Community/Cultural Center campus. This plaza will contain a playground, bandstand, and interactive fountain to provide a location for public art and festival activities.

b. Habitat District (164 acres)

The habitat areas of El Corazon comprise approximately 164 acres and contain land dedicated to natural habitat, conservation, and native open space areas. Along the north and west peripheral edges of El Corazon and part of Garrison Creek Detention Basin is a 150-acre contiguous habitat preserve protected by steep hillsides and thick riparian vegetation. Along with a 14-acre area along the northern boundary of Oceanside Boulevard, this habitat area is part of a wildlife corridor that supports many species of birds, including the Least Bell’s Vireo and California Gnatcatcher, two endangered native birds. The Habitat District provides access for wildlife to a continuous corridor of habitat from Highway 78/Buena Vista Creek to Camp Pendleton.

Most of the habitat area is naturally sheltered from the rest of the activities planned for El Corazon due to its difficult terrain and dramatic elevation change. The development approach for El Corazon places the more intensive land uses such as public facilities, commercial, and other active uses the farthest away from the habitat areas to minimize impacts to wildlife. The Habitat District contains solely natural habitat areas and hiking-only trails. No other uses will be allowed in these areas. There will be three main trailheads within the Habitat District.

c. Civic Services (34 acres)

The Civic Services area totals 34 acres and is comprised of the following four sites: 1) Senior Center, 2) Community/Cultural/Library Center, 3) Recreation Center, and 4) an area that is the temporary location for the Green Waste facility, which could eventually be planned for either future park expansion or a Public Safety Center.

The 7 acre Senior Center site is immediately adjacent to the Community/Cultural/Library Center land use area and the Village Commercial District. The Senior Center site is also located near the major roadway intersection of the El Corazon project site. The Senior Center is considered a pre-existing condition to this Specific Plan, as plans for the Senior Center were approved by the City prior to adoption of this Specific Plan.

Located adjacent to the Senior Center is the 6 acre Community/Cultural/Library Center site. This facility will provide educational, social, and civic opportunities for the community. The Civic Services component of the park also contains a Recreation Center land use area, which will contain an aquatic center with a competition size swimming pool and a skate/BMX park.

The future expansion area of the Civic Services acreage could change uses over the next several years. This part of the park will initially be developed into a Green Waste Facility. In the event the Green Waste Facility is relocated to another location in Oceanside, the site could be redeveloped into additional park space or potentially a Public Safety Center for the City of Oceanside, which is currently undergoing its own assessment.

d. Hotel (11 acres)

The Hotel District is planned to occupy two parcels of land within the site totaling 11 acres. The two hotel sites are intended to feature distinct hotel designs. One hotel is planned as a vacation destination designed to cater to and pamper guests. This destination hotel with 150 rooms is located at the highest elevation at El Corazon and will have commanding views of the large adjacent park and open space areas, as well as a quieter setting.

A second hotel is proposed for a 5 acre site and is envisioned to serve the more functional recreational, business, and possible residential land uses of the El Corazon site and surrounding area. This hotel site is also planned for 150 rooms but as a more urban compact form than the destination hotel site. This second hotel site is located near the Rancho del Oro Drive entry to the park. However, this second site is currently not available for development as part of this RFQ as it is not under the control of the City. This second hotel site is privately owned, which owner has indicated that they are going to develop a hotel on the site in addition to some retail and office product.

e. Village Commercial (19 acres)

The Village Commercial area occupies 19 acres of El Corazon. The Village area allows for retail shopping, restaurants, the 300 residential unit vertical mixed-use component and other appropriate uses. The site could contain up to approximately 168,000 square feet of commercial uses and approximately 80,000 square feet of second floor boutique office space. This mixed-use area is intended to contain specialty retail that is complementary and compatible with adjacent park, community, cultural and surrounding land uses. Example uses desired in the Village Commercial area include cafes, coffee house, restaurants, sports shops, ATMs, kiosks, service and other lifestyle uses. The Village Commercial is immediately adjacent to the Oceanside Boulevard Commercial area.

f. Oceanside Boulevard Commercial (25 acres)

A 25 acre site adjacent to Oceanside Boulevard is planned for approximately 167,000 square feet of commercial development and approximately 165,000 square feet of office uses. This site could be available for traditional commercial retail and service uses that could serve the surrounding areas, such as business products stores and services, sporting goods shops, fitness clubs, and full-service and fast food restaurants. The site could also contain offices and light industrial (technical) uses and the 300 residential unit vertical mixed-use component.

4. Environmental Impact Report

An Environmental Impact Report (“EIR”), in conjunction with the El Corazon Specific Plan, was recently certified by City Council. The EIR analyzed the potential environmental impacts associated with the El Corazon project. Any development, operation and/or use of El Corazon will need to address the potential environmental impacts identified in the EIR for El Corazon.

In addressing the issues described in the EIR, a developer, operator and/or tenant may need to incorporate methods that could reduce the magnitude of the potentially significant impacts of the project and/or incorporate alternatives that could reduce the magnitude of potentially significant impacts or propose more effective use of the project site consistent with the EIR and the Specific Plan. Developers, operators and/or tenants are encouraged to thoroughly review the EIR prior to the submission of a RFQ.

5. Estimated Infrastructure Improvement Costs

In 2006, an engineering company was tasked to prepare a preliminary engineer’s estimate of the probable infrastructure improvement costs for the overall El Corazon site. The probable infrastructure costs, based upon a preliminary grading plan using the site plan set forth in the El Corazon Master Plan, only addressed on-site items such as: earthwork (excluding tailing pond remediation); basic landscaping and irrigation; drainage; street improvements; water; sewer; and miscellaneous items such as bridges, etc.

The preliminary 2006 estimate of the probable infrastructure improvements, as generally described above, was in the range of $25 to $30 million (in 2006 dollars). The estimated probable infrastructure improvement cost does not address the “vertical” development (e.g. buildings and other structures) costs of the core recreation areas or the commercial areas as shown in the El Corazon Master Plan. An estimate of the total cost to develop the core recreational areas of El Corazon, which include such areas as park land, playing fields, park amenities, parking areas and the park roadways was estimated at $54 to $57 million (in 2005 dollars).

The preliminary engineer’s estimate of the probable infrastructure improvement costs shown above is informational only. The City does not represent that the above estimates are accurate or include all costs associated with the development of El Corazon and nor should any individual, company and/or team rely on such information as accurate in submitting a RFQ. Any individual, company and/or team submitting a RFQ that includes the development of all or a portion of El Corazon, who is later selected to submit a RFP and is eventually selected to develop any portion of El Corazon, will be required to undertake its own due diligence and analysis of the infrastructure and other related improvements costs associated with the development of El Corazon.

III. DEVELOPMENT PARAMETERS

1. The Vision Statement:

The vision for El Corazon is to create a 465-acre park in the center of Oceanside with a rural look and feel to the trails, roads and amenities so that the park provides an escape from city life.

El Corazon is designed as a place for everyone. Nature lovers will enjoy acres of solitude while hiking natural areas. Teams can hold tournaments and meet at well designed sports complexes. Open meadows beckon residents for family fun, parties or lazy afternoons. Community facilities provide gathering places for music, cultural and social events. Commercial development and the residential vertical mixed-use component opportunities will also need to integrate with the other areas of the park to be in accord with the vision for El Corazon.

2. Core Development Goals:

The City of Oceanside, through the El Corazon Specific Plan, has developed a concept plan for the El Corazon site that maximizes the use of the property's central location in the City, panoramic views, and existing topography. A combination of passive and active recreational park spaces, natural habitat areas, public spaces, a variety of types of commercial development, and a vertical mixed-use residential and commercial development area are the significant components of the design for El Corazon.

Developers, operators, and the major tenants interested in being a part of El Corazon need to develop and use El Corazon consistent with the parameters of the El Corazon Specific Plan and to focus on the following development parameters:

- Provide active and passive recreational facilities and uses.
- Provide educational/cultural facilities and uses.
- Develop fiscally balanced future uses.
- Retain City ownership of El Corazon by utilizing long-term leases. There will be no sale of any portion of El Corazon.
- Retain portions of El Corazon as open space and habitat.
- Assure compatibility of future uses with the surrounding areas.
- Allow for compatible public facilities.
- Emphasize pedestrian or non-vehicular transportation on the site.
- Provide for a variety of visitor-oriented land uses.
- If not feasible for concurrent development of the entire site, phase development over time.
- Commercial uses should complement other El Corazon uses.
- The vertical mixed-use residential and commercial component should also complement other El Corazon uses.

3. Development Components:

The City of Oceanside is soliciting a statement of qualifications from developers, operators, and organized representatives of major tenants with proven track records that reflect the ability to design and deliver a high quality product that manifests the objectives of the El Corazon Specific Plan. Whether the individual, company or team is submitting a statement of qualifications for all, some, or any one of the various use components of the El Corazon Specific Plan, the underlying concept is to make certain that all designated uses are integrated as reflected in the El Corazon Specific Plan.

Again, as previously mentioned, any entity, company and/or individual or combination thereof submitting a statement of qualifications does so with the express understanding that the City of Oceanside reserves the right to select certain entities, companies, and/or individuals, or a combination thereof, which includes, but is not limited to selecting members of different teams. This right also includes the City acting as the master developer.

The RFQ for the development of the El Corazon project can be generally broken down into the following five separate components for the purposes of determining who may be submitting statements of qualifications:

a. Master Developer

Those entities submitting under this category should possess the expertise in the development of master planned communities or developments that have a mixture of office and retail products and recreational components.

e. Vertical Mixed-Use Residential and Commercial Developer

Those entities submitting under this category should possess expertise in the development of a vertical mixed-use residential and commercial development. This expertise can also be in conjunction with that of a master developer and/or commercial developer as described above.

 Master development, commercial development, and/or vertical mixed-use residential and commercial development expertise should be in land development projects or both land development and vertical product development projects.
