Proper disposal of the dirty car wash water

- Sweep and clean the area where the water is to be captured prior to starting your car washing
- After water is pooled in one area, the wash water can be vacuumed up (for example by using a wet-vac) for proper disposal.
- Wash water can be disposed into the property landscape as long as the landscape can absorb the quantities of water generated from the entire event and the property owner gives permission.
- Do not dispose of wash water on an adjacent parcel without permission from that specific property owner.
- Do not dispose of wash water in the City's sanitary sewer system.
- The use of "biodegradable soaps" does not exempt anyone from the disposal options mentioned above.
