ITEM NO. 10

CITY OF OCEANSIDE

DATE: January 30, 2013

TO: Honorable Mayor and City Councilmembers

FROM: City Treasurer's Office

SUBJECT: APPROVAL OF A FIVE-YEAR PROFESSIONAL SERVICES AGREEMENT WITH BLX GROUP LLC OF LOS ANGELES, IN THE AMOUNT OF $62,000 FOR ARBITRAGE CONSULTING AND COMPLIANCE SERVICES FOR CITY BOND ISSUES; APPROVAL OF A FIVE-YEAR PROFESSIONAL SERVICES AGREEMENT WITH BLX GROUP LLC OF LOS ANGELES, IN THE AMOUNT OF $19,000 FOR ARBITRAGE CONSULTING AND COMPLIANCE SERVICES FOR SUCCESSOR AGENCY TO THE OCEANSIDE REDEVELOPMENT AGENCY; AND AUTHORIZATION FOR THE CITY MANAGER TO EXECUTE THE AGREEMENTS

SYNOPSIS

Staff recommends that the City Council approve two separate five-year professional services agreements with BLX Group LLC of Los Angeles, one in the amount of $62,000 for arbitrage consulting and compliance services for city bond issues; and approve an additional five-year professional services agreement with BLX Group LLC of Los Angeles, in the amount of $19,000 for arbitrage consulting and compliance services for the Successor Agency to the Oceanside Redevelopment Agency; and authorize the City Manager to execute the agreements.

BACKGROUND

BLX Group LLC (BLX) has served as the City's arbitrage consulting and compliance consultant since 1997. There are currently fourteen bond issues that require arbitrage calculations be performed in accordance with bond covenants for each individual issue.

BLX's most recent agreement with the City expired on June 30, 2012.

ANALYSIS

In 1986, the federal government enacted new tax laws that require issuers of tax exempt debt to make payments to the government any arbitrage earnings (investment earnings that exceed the bond yield) on bond proceeds and other related funds. Issuers are required to calculate once every five years (or more frequently as required by individual bond covenants) during the life of the bonds whether or not an arbitrage rebate payment must be made. In 1997, the City elected to contract out the required arbitrage rebate calculations.

The City currently has fourteen bond issues that require arbitrage rebate calculations. Of the fourteen, four of the bond issues were issued by the Oceanside Redevelopment Agency. Due to the dissolution of California redevelopment agencies by the State, a separate contract for the arbitrage rebate services related to the former Oceanside Redevelopment Agency must be approved by the Successor Agency to the Oceanside Redevelopment Agency, and the Successor Agency Oversight Board.

In September 2012, a Request for Proposals for arbitrage consulting and compliance services was sent to four firms and advertised on the California Society of Municipal Finance Officers website. The City received four responses. Staff from Treasury, Finance, as well as the City's bond counsel reviewed and rated the proposals. BLX Group received the highest ranking and was selected to provide arbitrage consulting and compliance services for the City.

The term of both the City's contract and the Successor Agency contract will commence on January 30, 2013, and end on December 31, 2017. Pricing for the contracts is fixed for the term of the contract. The overall cost of the City's five-year contract is $62,000; the Successor Agency's overall cost is $19,000. The payment for arbitrage rebate calculation services is allocated to each respective bond issue's budget as part of the debt service annual expense.

FISCAL IMPACT

The cost for the City's five-year contract with BLX is $62,000. For Fiscal Year 2012-2013, the cost of arbitrage rebate calculation services has been budgeted in each of the City's ten bond issues. The new contract pricing is at a reduced level; therefore no budget adjustments are necessary.

The cost for the Successor Agency's five-year contract with BLX is $19,000. The contract will be presented for approval by the Successor Agency Oversight Board in February 2013.

COMMISSION/COMMITTEE REPORT

Does not apply.

CITY ATTORNEY'S ANALYSIS

The referenced documents have been reviewed by the City Attorney and approved as to form.

RECOMMENDATION

Staff recommends that the City Council approve two separate five-year professional services agreements with BLX Group LLC of Los Angeles, one in the amount of $62,000 for arbitrage consulting and compliance services for city bond issues; and approve an additional five-year professional services agreement with BLX Group LLC of Los Angeles, in the amount of $19,000 for arbitrage consulting and compliance services for the Successor Agency to the Oceanside Redevelopment Agency; and authorize the City Manager to execute the agreements.

PROPOSAL TO PROVIDE ARBITRAGE CONSULTING AND COMPLIANCE SERVICES

September 24, 2012

September 24, 2012

Michele Lund, Treasury Manager
City Treasurer's Office
City of Oceanside
300 North Coast Highway
Oceanside CA 92054

Re: Proposal to Provide Arbitrage Consulting and Compliance Services

Dear Ms. Lund,

On behalf of BLX Group LLC ("BLX"), formerly known as Bond Logistix LLC, we are pleased to respond to the City of Oceanside's ("City") Request for Proposal for Arbitrage Consulting and Compliance Services ("RFP"). Having worked with the City in the capacity of Financial Advisor in 2011 and as its Arbitrage Consultant since 1989, we believe that BLX's technical capabilities, familiarity with debt profile and unsurpassed client service, combine to make us distinctly qualified to serve the City's needs.

Since our inception 23 years ago, BLX has been a wholly-owned subsidiary of global transaction law firm Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP ("Orrick"). Orrick is generally regarded as one of the most respected public finance law firms in the nation; they have been providing quality legal services to municipal issuers, underwriters, and trustees for one hundred years and have ranked first nationally as bond counsel for most of the last decade (as reported in the Bond Buyer). Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group is the largest and most experienced group of its kind.

Consistent with our Orrick heritage, BLX's operating philosophy is fortified by three important elements:

(1) Honesty and Integrity All representations made by BLX, whether in the form of a written report or a solicitation of business, are made with the best intentions of our firm and in the best interest of our clients. Furthermore, BLX has never been a party to any litigation for any reason.

We are aware of a rebate consulting firm that consistently refers to its network of UPS Boxes in cities across the country as "Suites," leading its clients and prospects to believe that it has "offices" in these cities. All BLX offices, where so named, are populated with actual BLX employees (we do not name Orrick offices that do not house BLX employees as offices either). We do not attempt to make ourselves appear geographically located where we are not or larger than we really are. We have no reason to; our experience speaks for itself.

(2) Accuracy BLX has instituted policies and procedures to ensure that all BLX analyses reflect the most recent version of the Treasury Regulations and all beneficial elections available thereunder. BLX consultants work closely with Orrick tax counsel to identify the single best technical approach to any particular analysis, or set of related analyses. Finally, BLX implements a rigorous, multi-tiered approach to report review that identifies potential errors and ensures that all possible outcomes have been considered and compared.

(3) Client Advocacy BLX consultants take pride in crafting services for their clients that exceed their expectations. We often uncover opportunities passed over by other consultants to optimize analyses on a prospective or a retrospective basis. Some of the projects underlying these opportunities have taken weeks or months to complete, but the net results to our clients can be in the tens to hundreds of thousands, and even millions, of dollars.

We hope that you find the information contained herein to be both informative and responsive to your needs. Should you require any other information with respect to our proposal, please call either of the undersigned at the numbers below. Thank you for your consideration and for this opportunity to present our qualifications.

Very truly yours,

1) ARBITRAGE CONSULTING AND COMPLIANCE EXPERIENCE

Description of the firm's experience working with governments performing all of the normal duties associated with providing arbitration consulting and compliance services.

BLX Group LLC ("BLX") has the requisite combination of relevant experience, expertise, and resources to deliver truly unparalleled arbitration consulting services to the City of Oceanside ("City"). We have a strong foundation of successful engagements with issuers similar to the City, a balanced team of administrative, analytical, and legal resources, and the capacity to be "on call" at any time to assist with changes in applicable law, inquiries by the IRS, or any issue raised by the City staff.

Since its inception in 1989, BLX has grown to become the largest provider of arbitration rebate consulting services in the country, with a total of over 2,500 clients in every U.S. State and Territory. Each year we prepare approximately 4,000 arbitration analyses and legal opinions.

In the pages that follow, we describe in specific terms how BLX is best positioned to provide the proposed services to the City. But in general terms, aside from our unmatched understanding of the City's transactions, the objective of the City should be to find a firm which offers the following:

- the best available technical and analytical services;
- the best available legal services including access to vast amount of tax counsel resources;
- the best available customer service;
- the ability to consistently identify the lowest legally permissible arbitration rebate liability;
- integration of ancillary services such as bond proceeds investment advisory services to help optimize the economics of a given bond program;
- support in the event of any IRS review or inquiry; and
- competitive pricing.

Each of the above points represents a strength for BLX. Furthermore, all BLX analyses are delivered with an Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP ("Orrick") legal opinion, as well as a BLX professional opinion, each of which attests to the fact that the calculations were performed in accordance with applicable Treasury Regulations. These opinions, never offered lightly, are representative of the importance placed on the quality of our work.

Additionally, BLX is constantly searching for ways to make our services more cost-effective. For example, for special cases where a bond issue meets an expenditure exception, or it is otherwise obvious that an issue could not have generated positive arbitration earnings, BLX can issue a one page opinion that briefly states the facts as we know them and instructs the City that no further calculations are necessary. Such services are executed at significantly discounted fee relative to bond issues requiring an exhaustive arbitration analysis.

Firm Overview

BLX was established in 1989 to undertake the mathematical, financial, and other technical aspects of arbitration compliance for issuers and borrowers of tax-exempt debt. Since that time, we have grown to become the largest provider of such services in the country, with a total of over 2,500 clients in every U.S. State and Territory. We have more than 70 employees in seven offices in Boston, Dallas, Denver, Los Angeles, New York, Phoenix, and Tampa.

Since inception over 23 years ago, BLX has been a subsidiary of global transaction law firm Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP. Orrick is generally regarded as the premier public finance law firm in the nation; they have been providing quality legal services to municipal issuers, underwriters, and trustees for one hundred years and have been ranked first nationally as bond counsel for most of the last decade. Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group is the largest and most experienced group of its kind.

Since inception BLX has completed over 58,000 arbitrage analyses and legal opinions (more than 4,000 in 2011). Over the years BLX has completed over 10,000 arbitrage rebate compliance reports and legal opinions for over 4,000 City bond issues representing over 500 city-level issuers across the nation. Yet it is not the sheer number of reports alone that makes BLX a leader in the industry; our consultants and their collective experience combined with the experience of Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group are what truly differentiates BLX from our competitors. Because of our extensive expertise in this specialized area, many of the largest and most complex issuers in the country retain BLX to provide arbitrage rebate compliance services.

Furthermore, we are uniquely qualified to address the City's arbitrage rebate compliance needs with limited burden on City staff because we are already intimately familiar with the City's debt profile, having provided such services to the City since 1989, we have completed over 120 arbitrage analyses and legal opinions for the City's bond issues. We are not aware of any other firm with more applicable expertise in the areas of the Universal Cap provisions, commingled funds, and transferred proceeds as they relate to City bonds.

As demonstration of our experience working with cities across the country, provided below is a representative listing of some of BLX's current city engagements:

Capabilities and Qualifications

BLX's combination of investment, bond finance, and regulatory expertise will provide the City with the most comprehensive and valuable arbitrage consulting services available.

In contrast to those that view arbitrage rebate as an after-the-fact data entry or accounting function, BLX professionals thoroughly understand the legal, economic, and technical aspects of debt offerings and investment instruments. This expertise allows us to accommodate even the most unusual and complex circumstances, and to apply beneficial analytical alternatives when available.

As illustrated in the table and chart (next right), BLX's arbitrage rebate practice represents the full spectrum of issue types and technical complexities. The breadth of our experience enables us to recognize immediately debt and investment structures or circumstances that are otherwise foreign to firms with a narrower practice focus. We are thereby able to spend less time figuring out the issue's structure and more time optimizing the analysis of any given bond issue.

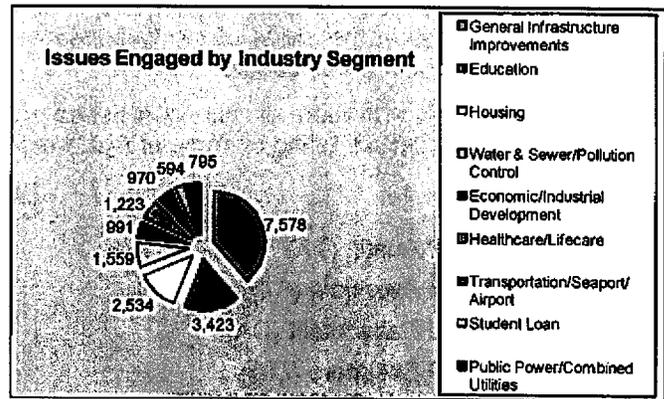

Our procedural approach (as described further in Section 1.2), our process of checks and balances, and our quick access to Orrick's expert legal resources give us a distinct advantage not only in recognizing and appropriately addressing structures with which we have prior experience, but also in isolating the single best approach to structures for which no precedent, as it pertains to proper treatment, exists.

We maintain long-standing engagements with many of the nation's largest and most sophisticated issuers. BLX's technical, financial and regulatory expertise is evidenced by the fact that BLX is often asked to assist investment banking, financial advisory, consulting, and law firms with complex structurings and problem-solving, especially as they relate to correctly applying federal tax law requirements. This level of technical proficiency far surpasses that required for many arbitrage analyses, but enables BLX to handle complex analyses when necessary and to provide issuers with a higher degree of comfort that all analyses are accurate.

BLX Resources

BLX's collective experience far exceeds that of any other arbitrage rebate compliance firm. Senior BLX consultants have an average of over 17 years of experience in arbitrage compliance and public finance (overall as a firm, that average is 10 years of experience). On a more personal level, Glenn Casterline who has served as the City's Project Manager in the past and will continue to serve as Project Manager if BLX is chosen to serve as the City's arbitrage rebate provider, has over 20 years experience. In addition, senior BLX managers have, in aggregate, well over 250 years of experience in the business of arbitrage consulting, a figure vastly greater than that of any other arbitrage services firm (see table next right).

BLX is able to take advantage of its large personnel base to target the various tasks of arbitrage rebate consulting to the most appropriate resource. This allows us to operate at the highest level of efficiency, thereby assuring the value of our services. By taking advantage of our extensive technical and regulatory expertise, we have designed a rigorous process of analysis, review, and optimization that ensures that each arbitrage analysis meets the highest standards for quality and accuracy.

Management of Arbitrage Rebate Services Operations

The management of our operations, our approach can be best outlined in three parts: technical approach, operational approach, and service approach. Our procedures form the basis of our business, and have enabled us to maintain our position as the nation's premier provider of arbitrage rebate consulting services.

(1) Technical Approach: Many firms use some form of "canned" or commercial software program to perform arbitrage calculations. At BLX, we prefer the flexibility of proprietary spreadsheet-based templates. For complex and/or customized analyses, consultants using a pre-designed software program are limited to the methodologies built into that program. It is our experience that often the best answer is produced from a methodology that is rarely used (and therefore not available in a pre-designed program) due to the additional amount of work entailed.

(2) Operational Approach: Part of the reason we have become the nation's largest arbitrage rebate consulting firm lies in our distinct operational structure. We have strategically deployed our resources such that each resource is dedicated to performing the component of a particular arbitrage calculation that makes that resource most efficient. Thereby, our professionals spend less time on information collection and data entry and more time examining the details of a particular analysis to uncover the approach that produces the best result for the client. The ultimate result is that our professionals gain a much greater exposure to a wider variety of scenarios and outcomes than finance professionals at any level of seniority working for competing firms.

(3) Service Approach: Our expert technical and regulatory resources notwithstanding, we have consistently endeavored to "raise the bar" with respect to providing industry leading client services. We have identified many instances where issuers were incurring negative arbitrage on invested bond proceeds when either positive arbitrage or significantly "less negative" arbitrage positions were easily achievable. Since foregone arbitrage earnings are a dollar-for-dollar opportunity cost to the issuer, we have resolved to help issuers reduce or eliminate negative arbitrage. We have one of the nation's largest practices in the area of developing investment strategies for bond proceeds, and we have worked with a number of city level issuers. These resources would of course be available in an engagement with the City.

BLX is committed to delivering industry-leading customer service. We have been providing arbitrage consulting services to tax-exempt issuers since 1989, and over the years have had relationships with municipalities in every U.S. State and Territory. We are available at any time to provide recommendations, guidance, and any other requested support in areas where our experience and expertise are of value. We consider this approach to be part of our general scope of services and client relationship and, therefore, do not charge any additional fees to provide this type of assistance. We appreciate the perspectives and sensitivities of each issuer client, and prioritize them over current market forces – our clients always take precedence.

As part of our engagement BLX will conduct on-site review and training sessions for the City upon request. We would look forward to scheduling a time each year to visit the City to review our work, discuss any recommendations for changes in investment strategy or accounting procedures, and share any new developments in applicable tax law or IRS enforcement activity.

Arbitrage Rules Expertise – Integrated Legal Expertise with Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

As described earlier, Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group is nationally recognized for the depth and breadth of its expertise in tax matters related to public finance. The great diversity of Orrick's public finance practice (both geographically and in types of issues) has exposed the Public Finance Tax Group to almost every legal issue that has arisen concerning the tax aspects of municipal bonds.

The Public Finance Tax Group plays an essential role in BLX's arbitrage rebate compliance practice. Because compliance with Federal arbitrage regulations (and general tax law) requires ongoing legal interpretation of both applicable regulations and relevant bond documents, the Public Finance Tax Group works closely with BLX in our arbitrage compliance practice. BLX applies the regulations on a transaction by transaction basis, thereby identifying complexities and dealing with them according to applicable law instead of trying to fit circumstances unique to a transaction into a general methodology.

In our experience, the ability to carefully sort through the different rules contained in several previous versions of the regulations and guide the issuer to make proper and beneficial elections as permitted by these regulations can reduce rebate liabilities by tens or even hundreds of thousands of dollars. The rebate areas in which we feel legal analysis is advantageous, or even required, include:

- transferred proceeds analyses
- allocation of commingled funds
- treatment of yield restricted funds
- treatment of pooled investments
- elections into (or out of) certain regulations
- availability of transition rule or exception relief
- variable rate bond yield computations

While firms lacking legal resources may be able to arrive at a compliant result, they are unable to review a complete universe of allocation methodologies because they do not have expert tax counsel, available to BLX through its relationship to Orrick, to give them guidance as to what constitutes a legally meaningful interpretation of the relevant arbitrage regulations. Further, many firms lack any professional certification, and are thus unable to give an opinion that holds them accountable to any prescribed set of professional standards, which may expose the City to additional liabilities for which it has limited, if any, recourse.

The Importance of the Orrick Legal Opinion: Compliance with the arbitrage rebate rules under the Treasury Regulations is a condition of maintaining the tax-exempt status of the City's bonds. Performing an arbitrage rebate calculation incorporates both technical skills and legal expertise to ensure conformity with the legal requirements of the Tax Regulations.

To protect the tax-exempt status of your bonds, it is important that the opinions offered to the City not only address the mathematical accuracy of the calculations but also the legal adequacy of the methodology chosen. However, all legal opinions offered to the City are not the same. Certain firms may offer an opinion from a sole practitioner tax attorney who may not be actively involved in the issuance of tax-exempt bonds. Issuers and borrowers should remember that a legal opinion is more than just a piece of paper, and should reflect the involvement of experienced tax counsel with strong credentials. We believe that it is vital that tax counsel, actively involved in the ongoing issuance of tax-exempt bonds, provide legal oversight. The legal opinion offered with each BLX analysis is a written conclusion of the review of the legal documents, the calculations, and the methodological choices.

IRS Audits: In light of the IRS's recently increased enforcement efforts specifically in the arbitrage rebate and yield restriction areas, we strongly believe that BLX's depth of financial expertise combined with Orrick's unmatched legal expertise provides issuers with the highest level of comfort available. We are confident that BLX's direct experience with the IRS and its audit agents on arbitrage-related matters greatly surpasses that of any other firm.

BLX has provided support and advice to its clients for IRS inquiries ranging from simple questionnaires to more rigorous audits. BLX analyses have in all cases been shown to be methodologically sound and numerically accurate. The importance of this experience to the City is that the IRS is familiar with BLX and its professionals, its report format and its methods, and that BLX has a spotless record in its dealings with the IRS on behalf of its clients.

Assurance: Our unique combination of relevant experience, resources, and expertise allows BLX not only to provide the City with the highest quality of service, but to do so most efficiently and effectively. BLX will ensure that all aspects of the Treasury's arbitrage rebate and yield restriction regulations have been appropriately applied to all calculations performed by BLX. Standard to our service approach is the assurance that all calculations and reviews will be performed in a timely and efficient manner and will incorporate supporting schedules, notes and assumptions. All BLX analyses are accompanied by an Orrick legal opinion that attests that the calculations have been performed in accordance with applicable tax laws, as well as a BLX professional statement certifying the mathematical accuracy of the calculations. These opinions, never offered lightly, are representative of the importance placed on the quality of our work.

Unparalleled Tax Resources: While other firms may find the prospect of changing tax laws burdensome, we see such changes as potential opportunities to provide additional benefit to our clients. Although most changes in tax law are applicable prospectively, many are retroactively available by election. Our approach is to first carefully analyze the changes in tax law and then develop a transaction profile for issues that are or may be affected from an arbitrage or yield restriction perspective. For example, when the 1993 Regulations were introduced we developed a list of the pros and cons of electing into the 1993 Regulations. By utilizing this check list, we were able to efficiently identify candidates that might benefit from electing into the 1993 Regulations and notified our clients accordingly. The table below summarizes some of the methodologies BLX has applied and the approximate, cumulative savings that have accrued to BLX's clients as a result. The estimates provided are conservative.

Savings Achieved
Methodology Employed	Approximate Savings
Allocation and Valuation Analysis	$ 16 Million
Variable Rate Optimizations	$ 9 Million
Various Elections	$ 6 Million
Rebate Refund Requests Successfully Retrieved	$ 20 Million

By working closely with Orrick's Tax Group, BLX is made aware of any relevant changes in municipal finance and related tax law that would change our interpretation of the arbitrage rules. Although interpretation changes occur rarely, they may be initiated by the release of Technical Advice Memorandums or Private Letter Rulings issued by the IRS offering guidance, where there formerly was none.

The regulations are certainly not black and white, and occasionally, our interpretation of the arbitrage rules might change. Generally, such a change in interpretation comes about in areas that are not clear-cut and that are relatively newer (hedges, derivatives, etc.) or not well explained in the regulations. In the event of a change in our interpretation of arbitrage rules, working with Orrick, we would consider on a case-by-case basis, the materiality and applicability of such differing interpretation.

The BLX Difference – Experience with Pennsylvania Economic Development Financing Authority

In August of 2010, a borrower for the Pennsylvania Economic Development Financing Authority (the "Borrower"), engaged BLX to review an arbitrage report completed by Arbitrage Compliance Specialist, Inc. ("ACS"). Specifically, ACS had calculated a rebate liability of $1.25 million. Because the Borrower was surprised that the rebate liability calculated by ACS was so high, the Borrower hired BLX to review ACS's calculation to determine whether it was accurate.

BLX reviewed the analysis and determined that the ACS calculation of the rebate liability was mathematically accurate. However, BLX identified a different approach to valuing the investments that were held in two Reserve Funds that raised the potential for significantly lowering the rebate liability. The Borrower consulted Orrick, its Bond Counsel, and agreed to have BLX implement its approach. BLX's completion of the more complicated analysis resulted in substantial savings for the Borrower. As a consequence, BLX was able to reduce the Borrower's rebate liability payment and realize an immediate savings of $500,000. Additionally, in future years, continuing to use the technique identified by BLX will yield future savings of approximately $800,000 for total savings of $1.3 million over the life of the Bonds.

The special expertise to pursue complex solutions such as these, our wealth of knowledge and experience, and our tax oversight from Orrick, sets BLX apart from all other arbitrage rebate providers.

Please include a recent list of local agencies for which your firm provided arbitrage consulting and compliance services.

Please see Exhibit 1 for a partial listing of local current engagements for whom Nancy Kummer and Glenn Casterline serve as Arbitrage Consultant and Compliance Project Managers. Additional listing may be provided upon request.

2) PROPOSED SERVICES

Description of the arbitrage consulting and compliance services the firms propose to perform.

For each of our arbitrage rebate engagements, we follow the work plan outlined below.

1. Upon engagement of a new transaction, our initial efforts will be dedicated to compiling and formatting any required records and documentation not currently in our possession;
2. We subsequently establish a new record in our file center, and enter the subject transaction on our tickler/tracking database systems, whereby all relevant information about a particular bond issue, including notifications of upcoming rebate calculations and rebate payment dates, is easily recalled. This enables us to provide timely reporting to all BLX clients;
3. Glenn Casterline and Nancy Kummer, Co-Project Managers, will then allocate the transaction to a consultant assigned to the project based on issue type, complexity, and prior experience;
4. The consultant will next review the relevant materials to initially determine (1) applicable law, (2) existence and location of Gross Proceeds, and (3) yield calculation considerations;
5. The consultant then develops a recommended approach, taking into consideration the availability of election and exception relief, and the effect of transferred proceeds and/or commingled funds on the calculation;
6. The consultant's preliminary findings and recommended approach are presented to one or more of a Senior or Managing Consultant, Associate or Managing Director, and/or Tax Partner and approved or modified as appropriate;
7. The consultant reviews each investment purchase, receipt, sale, and disposition to compile the net cash flow of relevant non-purpose receipts and payments. This analysis determines the amount of arbitrage liability that has been incurred as a result of such investments;
8. The consultant's draft report undergoes a peer review. Consultants discuss the application of alternative allocation, valuation, or regulatory provisions to see if the initial result can be improved;
9. The results and analysis are considered for further improvement and approval by a Managing Director and an Orrick Tax Partner;
10. A final report, accompanied by an Orrick legal opinion and a summary of computational assumptions is prepared. The legal opinion affirms that the analysis was performed in accordance with all applicable laws, rulings, and regulations. The summary of computational assumptions includes a summary of relevant dates, elections, and exceptions, and an outline of the methodology employed; and
11. Any necessary IRS forms, for example IRS form 8038-T, are prepared and forwarded to the City for signature.

Procedural Approach

BLX has designed a rigorous system of checks and balances to ensure that all arbitrage analyses are both timely and accurate. Our review process involves increasingly experienced consultants, each of whom approaches a given analysis with a distinct and fresh viewpoint. The entire process is validated by the legal review performed by Orrick's expert tax lawyers.

BLX maintains a database monitoring system whereby all relevant information about a particular bond issue, including notifications of upcoming rebate calculations and rebate payment dates, is easily recalled. This enables us to provide timely reporting to all BLX clients.

We have read carefully and fully understand the "Scope of Services" as set forth in RFP. Provided below is a detailed step by step description of the tasks BLX employs to ensure the highest quality arbitrage consulting services available.

A. Discovery and Administration

Collect Data Upon engagement of a new bond issue, our initial efforts are dedicated to compiling and formatting any required records and documentation not already in our possession. BLX always tries to identify the most efficient and cost-effective sources for obtaining the required legal documents and investment records.

Verify the Need for Analysis To avoid unnecessary work, as soon as basic documentation is available for a particular bond issue, we verify that the issue is, in fact, subject to the rebate requirement. If so, we seek any readily ascertainable facts and circumstances which would allow us to conclude (a) that no positive arbitrage could have been generated or (b) that there would be no value in knowing exactly how much negative arbitrage had been incurred.

Create BLX Database Tracking Once the need for analysis is confirmed, we open the necessary files in the firm's records center and enter the subject transactions in our extensive SQL database tracking system. This ensures that reports are delivered in a timely fashion and that all pertinent details of a particular transaction can be accessed by the BLX professionals that will be involved in the production, review, and delivery of the analysis.

Assign a Primary Consultant The transaction is assigned to a consultant based on issue type, complexity, similarity to prior analyses prepared by that consultant, and the consultant's current work load. At this time, or as soon thereafter as practicable, we also determine whether it is legally required or otherwise advisable to undertake the analysis in conjunction with those for one or more other technically related issues

Conduct Initial Legal Review Working with a BLX Project Manager and/or Orrick Tax Partner, the assigned consultant will review the legal documents of the bond issue to uncover any unusual or unique elements to the transaction which would influence the initial direction of the arbitrage analysis.

B. Financial Modeling

Devise an Initial Approach The consultant reviews relevant materials to determine:

- a) applicable laws, rules, and regulations,
- b) existence and location of "Gross Proceeds" (as that term is defined in the Code),
- c) rebate calculation considerations, and
- d) what general and/or elective exceptions are available to Gross Proceeds of the issue.

Confirm the Approach The consultant obtains approval for his/her recommended approach from the Project Manager.

Calculate the Bond Yield All arbitrage rebate analyses BLX provides include a verification of the bond yield for arbitrage purposes. Yield is calculated in accordance with applicable regulations taking into account any provisions for optional or early redemption and the application of any qualified guarantee fees.

Calculate the Cumulative Rebate Liability The consultant applies the following approach to determining the cumulative rebate liability:

- a) identify and separately accounting for all Gross Proceeds of the bond issue, including those requiring allocation analyses due to "transferred proceeds" and/or "commingled funds" circumstances;
- b) identify and valuing Gross Proceeds that remain unexpended at the Calculation Date;
- c) apply the arbitrage yield to the net non-purpose investments cash flow to determine the future value (cumulative arbitrage liability, penalty-in-lieu of rebate liability, and/or any existing yield restriction liability) of such cash flow;
- d) determine whether alternative allocation and/or valuation methods will improve the initial result;
- e) determine whether applying alternative regulatory provisions will improve the initial result.

C. Review, Optimization and Verification

Managing Consultant Review The consultant's draft is reviewed by a Managing Consultant. Opportunities to optimize and subsequently compare alternative approaches to the analysis are discussed, agreed upon and executed.

Project Manager Review The draft analysis is reviewed by the Project Manager for opportunities to further optimize the analysis. At this level, the review may involve conference calls with other Managing Directors, often including an Orrick Tax Partner. At this level alternative investment strategies will be considered, and the incremental benefits enumerated where appropriate, for presentation to the City under separate cover.

Tax Partner Review The draft report is reviewed by one or more Orrick Tax Partners.

Verification Once all reviews have been completed the consultant incorporates any modifications to the methodology and edits all typographical errors discovered during the review process. The accuracy of the final analysis is verified by the Project Manager.

D. Disbursement

Prepare the Final Report Subsequent to verification, a final report, including the following, will be assembled and delivered to the City on the required date:

- a) documentation to support all calculations;
- b) a summary of methodology employed, major assumptions, conclusions, and any recommendations for changes in record keeping;
- c) a legal opinion attesting that our analysis was prepared in accordance with applicable federal tax law;
- d) any necessary filing materials, including IRS Form 8038-T and payment explanations;
- e) notification, usually under separate cover or verbally, of any problems and/or opportunities of which we became aware during the course of our analysis.

Prepare the Status Report We provide a rebate status report of all outstanding issues which sets forth the arbitrage yield, temporary/spend down restrictions and deadlines, next rebate calculation date, and the most recently calculated rebate liability.

Update BLX Database Tracking System The consultant will update the relevant elements of our database tracking system, to allow BLX in the future to quickly access and compare each of our client's bond issues under engagement, and to automatically notify the BLX consultant in advance of the next anticipated computation date.

Update and Maintain Records Lastly, the consultant will organize all documents and records gathered in support of the recently completed calculations for placement in the red-well file created to store the historical information relating to each individual bond issue. Each file is tracked using a bar code mechanism and will either be kept in BLX's offices or sent to offsite storage for long term safekeeping. BLX has never discarded any information relating to any calculations performed and is often the only existing member of a financing team in possession of a full set of documents and records.

E. Follow up

Confirmation Subsequent to delivery of the report, the assigned consultant will call the City to make sure it is in possession of the report, that the service has been executed to its satisfaction, and to answer any questions the City may have regarding the analysis performed.

Methodological Discretion

Many firms view arbitrage rebate, and thus their own services, as an after-the-fact accounting function. Correspondingly, their technology and resources are sufficient only to identify, in many cases, the simplest arbitrage rebate result for a given bond issue. They then just move on to the next project. No attempt is made to pursue the optimal result to a given analysis through alternate valuation methodologies or beneficial elections, nor is any attempt made to help the issuer to integrate arbitrage results into a general financing strategy. Such firms seem even to state proudly that "arbitrage rebate is all they do," as if it makes sense to isolate tax compliance matters from other financing decisions.

BLX regularly provides support to its clients in a variety of areas outside the scope of a traditional arbitrage consulting engagement. The following are examples of circumstances in which we would apply methodological discretion: Most of these have applied to work we have done for the City over the years.

Commingled Funds: Commingled funds arise when gross proceeds of a bond issue that are subject to the arbitrage requirements are commingled with any other type(s) of monies (including gross proceeds that are eligible for an exception, proceeds of another tax-exempt bond issue, or non-bond proceeds). This can be especially relevant in the context of replacement refundings, financings that have both taxable and tax-exempt components, parity reserve funds, and variable rate issues. An "allocation analysis" must be undertaken to allocate (legally and to the optimal economic effect) investments and or expenditures to the various types of monies. Various consistently applied methodologies are allowed by the tax regulations. Which methodologies are finally applied will be determined by the parameters of the particular bond issue. Failing to identify and properly treat commingled funds will result in an incorrect calculation of arbitrage liability.

Universal Cap Provisions of the Tax Regulations: Generally, the Universal Cap provisions state that, starting (at the latest) with the end of the first bond year that follows the second anniversary, the balance of gross proceeds allocated to a bond issue for arbitrage rebate purposes must not exceed the value of the outstanding bonds. A legally accurate and economically optimal application of the Universal Cap provisions is not within the capabilities of most arbitrage rebate compliance firms, yet this is one of the most important areas requiring methodological discretion to arrive at the most favorable result. We would encourage the City to look for evidence of expertise in this area in all arbitrage rebate proposals it receives.

Variable Rate Bonds: Variable rate bonds present a unique set of challenges in determining the best arbitrage rebate result for a given issue. Because the balance of nonpurpose investments of a given issue is rarely the same as the balance of outstanding bonds (aside perhaps on the date of issue), the tax regulations allow an issuer to select among a number of different "yield period" scenarios within the five-year reporting period. This is above and beyond the traditional flexibility to change the bond year. In cases where the yield on the bonds declines after all or most of the proceeds have been spent, issuers can be presented with a surprise positive arbitrage liability. Careful bond year selection and yield period optimization can address this problem. However, this can be a demanding task, especially when rates have been volatile in a given five-year period. In our experience, we are the only firm in the country capable of effectively dealing with the most complex of circumstances of this type.

Transferred Proceeds: Transferred proceeds analyses can give rise to differing, often incorrect, methodological approaches among arbitrage consulting firms. Transferred proceeds arise in connection with refunding and refunded bonds and can significantly complicate the process of identifying the gross proceeds of a particular bond issue. BLX has unmatched experience in these matters, having performed such analyses for virtually every issuer type and tax-exempt debt instrument. As in the case of commingled funds, poorly prepared transferred proceed analyses can accrue significant unnecessary monetary costs to the issuer or cause unnecessary scrutiny from investors and regulators due to noncompliance with the Regulations. Transferred proceeds analyses are among the most demanding in the public finance industry, and it should not be assumed that all arbitrage consultants are competent to perform the most difficult of such analyses.

Market vs. Present Value of Securities: In addition to flexible allocation methodology, the Regulations allow several methods of valuing securities held as of a computation date, transferred proceeds date, or other applicable allocation date. Because arbitrage rebate analyses are based on the nonpurpose payments and receipts through computation and transferred proceeds dates, securities held as of such dates must be valued to represent a receipt or disposition of principal and accrued interest. The tax regulations allow such valuations to be determined based on (i) market value, (ii) present (accrued) value, or (iii) plain par (i.e., a security purchased with a de minimis amount of original issue discount or premium), and the choice can have tremendous impact on the bottom line rebate liability. BLX evaluates the merits of these three valuation methods on a case-by-case basis, and apprises the client of the advantages and consequences associated with each.

Unlike the case with commingled funds or transferred proceeds, a consultant who foregoes comparing market vs. present value of securities in the process of calculating the arbitrage liability does not risk preparing an incorrect analysis (excepting a small subset of circumstances where a particular valuation methodology is required by the regulations). Rather, the consultant risks preparing a less than optimal analysis of the arbitrage liability. Since we believe that an arbitrage analysis is a valuable tool for investment planning and monitoring, such inefficient analyses may have undesirable, and unexpected, results.

Optional Elections: Opportunities to apply beneficial elections often surface with regard to parity reserve and similar commingled fund structures, refundings, variable rate bond structures, and structures where little precedent exists with regard to how the arbitrage rebate and yield restriction regulations should apply. BLX has demonstrable experience and success in identifying such opportunities. Furthermore, the integration of Orrick's expert resources in the execution of the resultant analyses is imperative in the validation of such analyses. Identifying and successfully incorporating optional elections into arbitrage analyses can have a major impact on the bottom line arbitrage rebate liability.

Given the size and breadth of our arbitrage rebate consulting practice, the technical abilities of our consultants, and the invaluable legal resources at our disposal, we have applied our expertise in each of the areas above literally hundreds (in some cases thousands) of times. We would be pleased to provide any number of specific examples upon request. In some cases our experience with a certain type of analysis exceeds the experience of other firms' entire practice.

3) RECORDS RETENTION POLICY

Records retention policy surrounding the work papers utilized for the arbitrage rebate calculation.

BLX will maintain printed copies of all investment records, arbitrage rebate reports and bond documents as well as a PDF version of all arbitrage rebate analyses prepared for a given issue for at least six years after a given issue's final maturity date, as well as provide assistance and consultation for records and documentation retention. Since our founding over 23 years ago, we have kept all records in connection with all our engagements.

Through our current rebate engagement with the City, we have accumulated the required documentation, including relevant official statements, tax certificates, bond resolutions, verification reports, and other various documents, for all currently outstanding bond issues.

4) AVAILABILITY

The firm's staff availability to City staff for consultation (including the firm's local presence, if any) and how you would maintain communication with City staff on the firm's responsibilities under the contract.

BLX takes an individualized approach to providing arbitrage compliance services. Open communication allows us to achieve a clear understanding of the unique characteristics, circumstances, and objectives of each client. As described in the proposal, Glenn Casterline and Nancy Kummer will serve as Co-Project Managers.

BLX personnel will consult with the City personnel on a regular basis with regard to (1) technical application of the Treasury regulations (2) pending or finalized modifications to the Treasury regulations (3) optimal investment vehicles for upcoming and outstanding bond issues (4) modifications to the City's procedures that may make the administration of the engagement more efficient (5) questions about investments, financial structures or the Treasury regulations not anticipated in this response.

Issuer education is an important aspect of our arbitrage consulting services; we would recommend that the City demand such a commitment from whichever firm it selects.

We propose that the contemplated project be managed from our Los Angeles office, which is staffed with 20 full time consultants. Additional BLX professionals from our Dallas, Phoenix, New York, and Tampa offices, staffed with more than 25 additional arbitrage rebate compliance professionals, will be available as necessary.

Proposed Office

BLX Group – Los Angeles
777 S. Figueroa Street, Suite 3200
Los Angeles, CA 90017
PH (213) 612-2200 / FX (213) 612-2499

Furthermore, BLX possesses a unique combination of relevant experience, resources, and expertise required to (1) consistently identify the lowest legally permissible rebate liability on the immediate and all related bond issues, (2) provide timely service with minimal imposition on City staff, (3) advise the City on how best to integrate arbitrage considerations into its overall financing and investment strategies and (4) serve as a resource for the City. Municipal issuers that hold their rebate consultant to any lesser standards often invite exposure to substantial direct, indirect, and opportunity cost.

BLX is uniquely positioned to meet any scheduled requirements, as well as to respond quickly to any requests for additional support outside the traditional scope of an arbitrage services engagement. As mentioned, our internal tracking software notifies the members of the assigned professionals well in advance of scheduled computation dates, allowing us to maintain smooth work-flow and react to any unforeseen circumstances. For many smaller or less technically capable firms, an engagement with the City might represent a significant strain on firm resources. Not so with BLX; we have the additional capacity to consistently exceed the City's expectations with regard to timely and accurate reporting.

5) RESUMES

Resumes of key personnel who would be assigned to this contract.

The Project Team that BLX will assign to work with the City consists of BLX's most experienced and appropriately skilled professionals. All team members will be available on a full-time basis. Glenn Casterline will serve as Client Service Manager and will address any day-to-day concerns and/or needs in connection with our proposed engagement. He will also assist with analytical strategy and report design. Nancy Kummer will serve as Co-Project Manager and in addition to establishing strategy and design with Mr. Casterline will coordinate efforts of other team members. Daniel Chang and Michelle Chung will lead the analytical process and report production, with support from other BLX professionals as necessary. Larry Sobel, Orrick Senior Tax Partner, will provide the legal analysis which is an integral part of our services.

Mr. Sobel is not simply a sole-practitioner like that available to other, smaller arbitrage consulting firms; rather he represents the Orrick Tax Group, the most highly-regarded public finance tax counsel group of its kind in the country.

Having provided arbitrage calculation and related consulting services to hundreds of municipalities across the country, BLX professionals are widely considered to be among the nation's leading non-attorney experts in tax matters relating to municipal bond financing. We are confident that the collective experience of the core team presented below exceeds that proposed by any other firm, in some cases even exceeding the experience of the entire firm.

3. FEE SCHEDULE

Please provide a schedule of all applicable fees and charges. Please clearly identify any one-time charges.

When comparing the fees listed below to those of other firms, the City should keep in mind that BLX does not attach additional fees for the legal consultation provided by Orrick's expert tax counsel in the preparation of rebate analyses.

The fees listed below would apply to any prospective issues of the City added to the engagement during the initial and any expended contract periods.

Base Fee Service	Fee
Report Fee (per report)	$995
Additional Fee (per report, as appropriate)
Computation Period in excess of 12 Month (per additional year or fraction thereof)	$150

It is always our goal to provide premium services to our clients, but we are firmly committed to NOT recommending calculations which appear to be unneeded. We would be doing the City, our client, a disservice if we insisted on calculations that are unnecessary.

Though BLX is perfectly capable of performing annual calculations, we want to clarify that the IRS does not require public agencies to perform calculations on an annual basis. The IRS requires public agencies to make rebate payments every 5 years. We mention this considering there are instances when annual calculations provide no value, though the cost of the analysis is incurred. BLX is sensitive to these instances and does not require their clients to perform annual calculations. We prefer discussing the timing of future calculations following the delivery of our most recent analysis. This allows our clients to avoid unnecessary costs for an analysis that may not be much different from the previous year's analysis.

It is for this reason that we included an "Additional Fee" of $150 for each year beyond a one year computation period. Tracking 4 years of investment cash flows takes more time than tracking just one year of cash flows and, therefore, the additional fee is assessed to compensate for the time needed to track the additional year(s). Below is an example of how the "Additional Fee" would be applied.

Example: BLX performs an initial calculation in 2012 for one of the City's COPS that were issued in 2011. The fee for that analysis is $995. Additionally, our analysis indicates that the 2011 COPS incurred $750,000 of NEGATIVE arbitrage. We then discuss the outcome of the analysis with City staff along with the timing of future analyses and conclude that we will not perform another calculation until 2016, the 5th Certificate Year. In 2016, we will perform another calculation and the fee for it will be $1,445 [$995 report fee (covering the period from 2012 to 2013) + $450 ($150*3 years (2013 through 2016))].

Other Expenses

Training and Communication: Please note that BLX does not charge hourly rates for phone calls or any other fees such as client visits, meetings, or training sessions.

Issuer education is very important to us; we would be pleased to provide an on-site training session at the City's request at no additional charge. Additionally, open communication allows BLX to achieve a clear understanding of the unique characteristics, circumstances, and objectives of each client. Daily communications will be over the telephone and/or email, as the City prefers, also at no additional charge.

Travel Reimbursement: BLX will not require the City to reimburse it for travel expenses.

PROPOSAL TO PROVIDE ARBITRAGE CONSULTING AND COMPLIANCE SERVICES

September 24, 2012

September 24, 2012

Michele Lund, Treasury Manager
City Treasurer's Office
City of Oceanside
300 North Coast Highway
Oceanside CA 92054

Re: Proposal to Provide Arbitrage Consulting and Compliance Services

Dear Ms. Lund,

On behalf of BLX Group LLC ("BLX"), formerly known as Bond Logistix LLC, we are pleased to respond to the City of Oceanside's ("City") Request for Proposal for Arbitrage Consulting and Compliance Services ("RFP"). Having worked with the City in the capacity of Financial Advisor in 2011 and as its Arbitrage Consultant since 1989, we believe that BLX's technical capabilities, familiarity with debt profile and unsurpassed client service, combine to make us distinctly qualified to serve the City's needs.

Since our inception 23 years ago, BLX has been a wholly-owned subsidiary of global transaction law firm Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP ("Orrick"). Orrick is generally regarded as one of the most respected public finance law firms in the nation; they have been providing quality legal services to municipal issuers, underwriters, and trustees for one hundred years and have ranked first nationally as bond counsel for most of the last decade (as reported in the Bond Buyer). Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group is the largest and most experienced group of its kind.

Consistent with our Orrick heritage, BLX's operating philosophy is fortified by three important elements:

(1) Honesty and Integrity All representations made by BLX, whether in the form of a written report or a solicitation of business, are made with the best intentions of our firm and in the best interest of our clients. Furthermore, BLX has never been a party to any litigation for any reason.

We are aware of a rebate consulting firm that consistently refers to its network of UPS Boxes in cities across the country as "Suites," leading its clients and prospects to believe that it has "offices" in these cities. All BLX offices, where so named, are populated with actual BLX employees (we do not name Orrick offices that do not house BLX employees as offices either). We do not attempt to make ourselves appear geographically located where we are not or larger than we really are. We have no reason to; our experience speaks for itself.

(2) Accuracy BLX has instituted policies and procedures to ensure that all BLX analyses reflect the most recent version of the Treasury Regulations and all beneficial elections available thereunder. BLX consultants work closely with Orrick tax counsel to identify the single best technical approach to any particular analysis, or set of related analyses. Finally, BLX implements a rigorous, multi-tiered approach to report review that identifies potential errors and ensures that all possible outcomes have been considered and compared.

(3) Client Advocacy BLX consultants take pride in crafting services for their clients that exceed their expectations. We often uncover opportunities passed over by other consultants to optimize analyses on a prospective or a retrospective basis. Some of the projects underlying these opportunities have taken weeks or months to complete, but the net results to our clients can be in the tens to hundreds of thousands, and even millions, of dollars.

We hope that you find the information contained herein to be both informative and responsive to your needs. Should you require any other information with respect to our proposal, please call either of the undersigned at the numbers below. Thank you for your consideration and for this opportunity to present our qualifications.

Very truly yours,

1) ARBITRAGE CONSULTING AND COMPLIANCE EXPERIENCE

Description of the firm's experience working with governments performing all of the normal duties associated with providing arbitration consulting and compliance services.

BLX Group LLC ("BLX") has the requisite combination of relevant experience, expertise, and resources to deliver truly unparalleled arbitration consulting services to the City of Oceanside ("City"). We have a strong foundation of successful engagements with issuers similar to the City, a balanced team of administrative, analytical, and legal resources, and the capacity to be "on call" at any time to assist with changes in applicable law, inquiries by the IRS, or any issue raised by the City staff.

Since its inception in 1989, BLX has grown to become the largest provider of arbitration rebate consulting services in the country, with a total of over 2,500 clients in every U.S. State and Territory. Each year we prepare approximately 4,000 arbitration analyses and legal opinions.

In the pages that follow, we describe in specific terms how BLX is best positioned to provide the proposed services to the City. But in general terms, aside from our unmatched understanding of the City's transactions, the objective of the City should be to find a firm which offers the following:

- the best available technical and analytical services;
- the best available legal services including access to vast amount of tax counsel resources;
- the best available customer service;
- the ability to consistently identify the lowest legally permissible arbitration rebate liability;
- integration of ancillary services such as bond proceeds investment advisory services to help optimize the economics of a given bond program;
- support in the event of any IRS review or inquiry; and
- competitive pricing.

Each of the above points represents a strength for BLX. Furthermore, all BLX analyses are delivered with an Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP ("Orrick") legal opinion, as well as a BLX professional opinion, each of which attests to the fact that the calculations were performed in accordance with applicable Treasury Regulations. These opinions, never offered lightly, are representative of the importance placed on the quality of our work.

Additionally, BLX is constantly searching for ways to make our services more cost-effective. For example, for special cases where a bond issue meets an expenditure exception, or it is otherwise obvious that an issue could not have generated positive arbitration earnings, BLX can issue a one page opinion that briefly states the facts as we know them and instructs the City that no further calculations are necessary. Such services are executed at significantly discounted fee relative to bond issues requiring an exhaustive arbitration analysis.

Firm Overview

BLX was established in 1989 to undertake the mathematical, financial, and other technical aspects of arbitration compliance for issuers and borrowers of tax-exempt debt. Since that time, we have grown to become the largest provider of such services in the country, with a total of over 2,500 clients in every U.S. State and Territory. We have more than 70 employees in seven offices in Boston, Dallas, Denver, Los Angeles, New York, Phoenix, and Tampa.

Since inception over 23 years ago, BLX has been a subsidiary of global transaction law firm Orrick Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP. Orrick is generally regarded as the premier public finance law firm in the nation; they have been providing quality legal services to municipal issuers, underwriters, and trustees for one hundred years and have been ranked first nationally as bond counsel for most of the last decade. Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group is the largest and most experienced group of its kind.

Since inception BLX has completed over 58,000 arbitrage analyses and legal opinions (more than 4,000 in 2011). Over the years BLX has completed over 10,000 arbitrage rebate compliance reports and legal opinions for over 4,000 City bond issues representing over 500 city-level issuers across the nation. Yet it is not the sheer number of reports alone that makes BLX a leader in the industry; our consultants and their collective experience combined with the experience of Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group are what truly differentiates BLX from our competitors. Because of our extensive expertise in this specialized area, many of the largest and most complex issuers in the country retain BLX to provide arbitrage rebate compliance services.

Furthermore, we are uniquely qualified to address the City's arbitrage rebate compliance needs with limited burden on City staff because we are already intimately familiar with the City's debt profile, having provided such services to the City since 1989, we have completed over 120 arbitrage analyses and legal opinions for the City's bond issues. We are not aware of any other firm with more applicable expertise in the areas of the Universal Cap provisions, commingled funds, and transferred proceeds as they relate to City bonds.

As demonstration of our experience working with cities across the country, provided below is a representative listing of some of BLX's current city engagements:

Capabilities and Qualifications

BLX's combination of investment, bond finance, and regulatory expertise will provide the City with the most comprehensive and valuable arbitrage consulting services available.

In contrast to those that view arbitrage rebate as an after-the-fact data entry or accounting function, BLX professionals thoroughly understand the legal, economic, and technical aspects of debt offerings and investment instruments. This expertise allows us to accommodate even the most unusual and complex circumstances, and to apply beneficial analytical alternatives when available.

As illustrated in the table and chart (next right), BLX's arbitrage rebate practice represents the full spectrum of issue types and technical complexities. The breadth of our experience enables us to recognize immediately debt and investment structures or circumstances that are otherwise foreign to firms with a narrower practice focus. We are thereby able to spend less time figuring out the issue's structure and more time optimizing the analysis of any given bond issue.

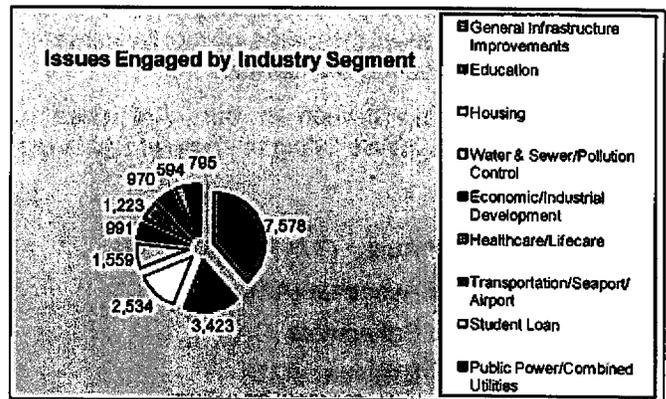

Our procedural approach (as described further in Section 1.2), our process of checks and balances, and our quick access to Orrick's expert legal resources give us a distinct advantage not only in recognizing and appropriately addressing structures with which we have prior experience, but also in isolating the single best approach to structures for which no precedent, as it pertains to proper treatment, exists.

We maintain long-standing engagements with many of the nation's largest and most sophisticated issuers. BLX's technical, financial and regulatory expertise is evidenced by the fact that BLX is often asked to assist investment banking, financial advisory, consulting, and law firms with complex structurings and problem-solving, especially as they relate to correctly applying federal tax law requirements. This level of technical proficiency far surpasses that required for many arbitrage analyses, but enables BLX to handle complex analyses when necessary and to provide issuers with a higher degree of comfort that all analyses are accurate.

BLX Resources

BLX's collective experience far exceeds that of any other arbitrage rebate compliance firm. Senior BLX consultants have an average of over 17 years of experience in arbitrage compliance and public finance (overall as a firm, that average is 10 years of experience). On a more personal level, Glenn Casterline who has served as the City's Project Manager in the past and will continue to serve as Project Manager if BLX is chosen to serve as the City's arbitrage rebate provider, has over 20 years experience. In addition, senior BLX managers have, in aggregate, well over 250 years of experience in the business of arbitrage consulting, a figure vastly greater than that of any other arbitrage services firm (see table next right).

BLX is able to take advantage of its large personnel base to target the various tasks of arbitrage rebate consulting to the most appropriate resource. This allows us to operate at the highest level of efficiency, thereby assuring the value of our services. By taking advantage of our extensive technical and regulatory expertise, we have designed a rigorous process of analysis, review, and optimization that ensures that each arbitrage analysis meets the highest standards for quality and accuracy.

Management of Arbitrage Rebate Services Operations

The management of our operations, our approach can be best outlined in three parts: technical approach, operational approach, and service approach. Our procedures form the basis of our business, and have enabled us to maintain our position as the nation's premier provider of arbitrage rebate consulting services.

(1) Technical Approach: Many firms use some form of "canned" or commercial software program to perform arbitrage calculations. At BLX, we prefer the flexibility of proprietary spreadsheet-based templates. For complex and/or customized analyses, consultants using a pre-designed software program are limited to the methodologies built into that program. It is our experience that often the best answer is produced from a methodology that is rarely used (and therefore not available in a pre-designed program) due to the additional amount of work entailed.

(2) Operational Approach: Part of the reason we have become the nation's largest arbitrage rebate consulting firm lies in our distinct operational structure. We have strategically deployed our resources such that each resource is dedicated to performing the component of a particular arbitrage calculation that makes that resource most efficient. Thereby, our professionals spend less time on information collection and data entry and more time examining the details of a particular analysis to uncover the approach that produces the best result for the client. The ultimate result is that our professionals gain a much greater exposure to a wider variety of scenarios and outcomes than finance professionals at any level of seniority working for competing firms.

(3) Service Approach: Our expert technical and regulatory resources notwithstanding, we have consistently endeavored to "raise the bar" with respect to providing industry leading client services. We have identified many instances where issuers were incurring negative arbitrage on invested bond proceeds when either positive arbitrage or significantly "less negative" arbitrage positions were easily achievable. Since foregone arbitrage earnings are a dollar-for-dollar opportunity cost to the issuer, we have resolved to help issuers reduce or eliminate negative arbitrage. We have one of the nation's largest practices in the area of developing investment strategies for bond proceeds, and we have worked with a number of city level issuers. These resources would of course be available in an engagement with the City.

BLX is committed to delivering industry-leading customer service. We have been providing arbitrage consulting services to tax-exempt issuers since 1989, and over the years have had relationships with municipalities in every U.S. State and Territory. We are available at any time to provide recommendations, guidance, and any other requested support in areas where our experience and expertise are of value. We consider this approach to be part of our general scope of services and client relationship and, therefore, do not charge any additional fees to provide this type of assistance. We appreciate the perspectives and sensitivities of each issuer client, and prioritize them over current market forces – our clients always take precedence.

As part of our engagement BLX will conduct on-site review and training sessions for the City upon request. We would look forward to scheduling a time each year to visit the City to review our work, discuss any recommendations for changes in investment strategy or accounting procedures, and share any new developments in applicable tax law or IRS enforcement activity.

Arbitrage Rules Expertise – Integrated Legal Expertise with Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP

As described earlier, Orrick's Public Finance Tax Group is nationally recognized for the depth and breadth of its expertise in tax matters related to public finance. The great diversity of Orrick's public finance practice (both geographically and in types of issues) has exposed the Public Finance Tax Group to almost every legal issue that has arisen concerning the tax aspects of municipal bonds.

The Public Finance Tax Group plays an essential role in BLX's arbitrage rebate compliance practice. Because compliance with Federal arbitrage regulations (and general tax law) requires ongoing legal interpretation of both applicable regulations and relevant bond documents, the Public Finance Tax Group works closely with BLX in our arbitrage compliance practice. BLX applies the regulations on a transaction by transaction basis, thereby identifying complexities and dealing with them according to applicable law instead of trying to fit circumstances unique to a transaction into a general methodology.

In our experience, the ability to carefully sort through the different rules contained in several previous versions of the regulations and guide the issuer to make proper and beneficial elections as permitted by these regulations can reduce rebate liabilities by tens or even hundreds of thousands of dollars. The rebate areas in which we feel legal analysis is advantageous, or even required, include:

- transferred proceeds analyses
- allocation of commingled funds
- treatment of yield restricted funds
- treatment of pooled investments
- elections into (or out of) certain regulations
- availability of transition rule or exception relief
- variable rate bond yield computations

While firms lacking legal resources may be able to arrive at a compliant result, they are unable to review a complete universe of allocation methodologies because they do not have expert tax counsel, available to BLX through its relationship to Orrick, to give them guidance as to what constitutes a legally meaningful interpretation of the relevant arbitrage regulations. Further, many firms lack any professional certification, and are thus unable to give an opinion that holds them accountable to any prescribed set of professional standards, which may expose the City to additional liabilities for which it has limited, if any, recourse.

The Importance of the Orrick Legal Opinion: Compliance with the arbitrage rebate rules under the Treasury Regulations is a condition of maintaining the tax-exempt status of the City's bonds. Performing an arbitrage rebate calculation incorporates both technical skills and legal expertise to ensure conformity with the legal requirements of the Tax Regulations.

To protect the tax-exempt status of your bonds, it is important that the opinions offered to the City not only address the mathematical accuracy of the calculations but also the legal adequacy of the methodology chosen. However, all legal opinions offered to the City are not the same. Certain firms may offer an opinion from a sole practitioner tax attorney who may not be actively involved in the issuance of tax-exempt bonds. Issuers and borrowers should remember that a legal opinion is more than just a piece of paper, and should reflect the involvement of experienced tax counsel with strong credentials. We believe that it is vital that tax counsel, actively involved in the ongoing issuance of tax-exempt bonds, provide legal oversight. The legal opinion offered with each BLX analysis is a written conclusion of the review of the legal documents, the calculations, and the methodological choices.

IRS Audits: In light of the IRS's recently increased enforcement efforts specifically in the arbitrage rebate and yield restriction areas, we strongly believe that BLX's depth of financial expertise combined with Orrick's unmatched legal expertise provides issuers with the highest level of comfort available. We are confident that BLX's direct experience with the IRS and its audit agents on arbitrage-related matters greatly surpasses that of any other firm.

BLX has provided support and advice to its clients for IRS inquiries ranging from simple questionnaires to more rigorous audits. BLX analyses have in all cases been shown to be methodologically sound and numerically accurate. The importance of this experience to the City is that the IRS is familiar with BLX and its professionals, its report format and its methods, and that BLX has a spotless record in its dealings with the IRS on behalf of its clients.

Assurance: Our unique combination of relevant experience, resources, and expertise allows BLX not only to provide the City with the highest quality of service, but to do so most efficiently and effectively. BLX will ensure that all aspects of the Treasury's arbitrage rebate and yield restriction regulations have been appropriately applied to all calculations performed by BLX. Standard to our service approach is the assurance that all calculations and reviews will be performed in a timely and efficient manner and will incorporate supporting schedules, notes and assumptions. All BLX analyses are accompanied by an Orrick legal opinion that attests that the calculations have been performed in accordance with applicable tax laws, as well as a BLX professional statement certifying the mathematical accuracy of the calculations. These opinions, never offered lightly, are representative of the importance placed on the quality of our work.

Unparalleled Tax Resources: While other firms may find the prospect of changing tax laws burdensome, we see such changes as potential opportunities to provide additional benefit to our clients. Although most changes in tax law are applicable prospectively, many are retroactively available by election. Our approach is to first carefully analyze the changes in tax law and then develop a transaction profile for issues that are or may be affected from an arbitrage or yield restriction perspective. For example, when the 1993 Regulations were introduced we developed a list of the pros and cons of electing into the 1993 Regulations. By utilizing this check list, we were able to efficiently identify candidates that might benefit from electing into the 1993 Regulations and notified our clients accordingly. The table below summarizes some of the methodologies BLX has applied and the approximate, cumulative savings that have accrued to BLX's clients as a result. The estimates provided are conservative.

Savings Achieved
Methodology Employed	Approximate Savings
Allocation and Valuation Analysis	$ 16 Million
Variable Rate Optimizations	$ 9 Million
Various Elections	$ 6 Million
Rebate Refund Requests Successfully Retrieved	$ 20 Million

By working closely with Orrick's Tax Group, BLX is made aware of any relevant changes in municipal finance and related tax law that would change our interpretation of the arbitrage rules. Although interpretation changes occur rarely, they may be initiated by the release of Technical Advice Memorandums or Private Letter Rulings issued by the IRS offering guidance, where there formerly was none.

The regulations are certainly not black and white, and occasionally, our interpretation of the arbitrage rules might change. Generally, such a change in interpretation comes about in areas that are not clear-cut and that are relatively newer (hedges, derivatives, etc.) or not well explained in the regulations. In the event of a change in our interpretation of arbitrage rules, working with Orrick, we would consider on a case-by-case basis, the materiality and applicability of such differing interpretation.

The BLX Difference – Experience with Pennsylvania Economic Development Financing Authority

In August of 2010, a borrower for the Pennsylvania Economic Development Financing Authority (the "Borrower"), engaged BLX to review an arbitrage report completed by Arbitrage Compliance Specialist, Inc. ("ACS"). Specifically, ACS had calculated a rebate liability of $1.25 million. Because the Borrower was surprised that the rebate liability calculated by ACS was so high, the Borrower hired BLX to review ACS's calculation to determine whether it was accurate.

BLX reviewed the analysis and determined that the ACS calculation of the rebate liability was mathematically accurate. However, BLX identified a different approach to valuing the investments that were held in two Reserve Funds that raised the potential for significantly lowering the rebate liability. The Borrower consulted Orrick, its Bond Counsel, and agreed to have BLX implement its approach. BLX's completion of the more complicated analysis resulted in substantial savings for the Borrower. As a consequence, BLX was able to reduce the Borrower's rebate liability payment and realize an immediate savings of $500,000. Additionally, in future years, continuing to use the technique identified by BLX will yield future savings of approximately $800,000 for total savings of $1.3 million over the life of the Bonds.

The special expertise to pursue complex solutions such as these, our wealth of knowledge and experience, and our tax oversight from Orrick, sets BLX apart from all other arbitrage rebate providers.

Please include a recent list of local agencies for which your firm provided arbitrage consulting and compliance services.

Please see Exhibit 1 for a partial listing of local current engagements for whom Nancy Kummer and Glenn Casterline serve as Arbitrage Consultant and Compliance Project Managers. Additional listing may be provided upon request.

2) PROPOSED SERVICES

Description of the arbitrage consulting and compliance services the firms propose to perform.

For each of our arbitrage rebate engagements, we follow the work plan outlined below.

1. Upon engagement of a new transaction, our initial efforts will be dedicated to compiling and formatting any required records and documentation not currently in our possession;
2. We subsequently establish a new record in our file center, and enter the subject transaction on our tickler/tracking database systems, whereby all relevant information about a particular bond issue, including notifications of upcoming rebate calculations and rebate payment dates, is easily recalled. This enables us to provide timely reporting to all BLX clients;
3. Glenn Casterline and Nancy Kummer, Co-Project Managers, will then allocate the transaction to a consultant assigned to the project based on issue type, complexity, and prior experience;
4. The consultant will next review the relevant materials to initially determine (1) applicable law, (2) existence and location of Gross Proceeds, and (3) yield calculation considerations;
5. The consultant then develops a recommended approach, taking into consideration the availability of election and exception relief, and the effect of transferred proceeds and/or commingled funds on the calculation;
6. The consultant's preliminary findings and recommended approach are presented to one or more of a Senior or Managing Consultant, Associate or Managing Director, and/or Tax Partner and approved or modified as appropriate;
7. The consultant reviews each investment purchase, receipt, sale, and disposition to compile the net cash flow of relevant non-purpose receipts and payments. This analysis determines the amount of arbitrage liability that has been incurred as a result of such investments;
8. The consultant's draft report undergoes a peer review. Consultants discuss the application of alternative allocation, valuation, or regulatory provisions to see if the initial result can be improved;
9. The results and analysis are considered for further improvement and approval by a Managing Director and an Orrick Tax Partner;
10. A final report, accompanied by an Orrick legal opinion and a summary of computational assumptions is prepared. The legal opinion affirms that the analysis was performed in accordance with all applicable laws, rulings, and regulations. The summary of computational assumptions includes a summary of relevant dates, elections, and exceptions, and an outline of the methodology employed; and
11. Any necessary IRS forms, for example IRS form 8038-T, are prepared and forwarded to the City for signature.

Procedural Approach

BLX has designed a rigorous system of checks and balances to ensure that all arbitrage analyses are both timely and accurate. Our review process involves increasingly experienced consultants, each of whom approaches a given analysis with a distinct and fresh viewpoint. The entire process is validated by the legal review performed by Orrick's expert tax lawyers.

BLX maintains a database monitoring system whereby all relevant information about a particular bond issue, including notifications of upcoming rebate calculations and rebate payment dates, is easily recalled. This enables us to provide timely reporting to all BLX clients.

We have read carefully and fully understand the "Scope of Services" as set forth in RFP. Provided below is a detailed step by step description of the tasks BLX employs to ensure the highest quality arbitrage consulting services available.

A. Discovery and Administration

Collect Data Upon engagement of a new bond issue, our initial efforts are dedicated to compiling and formatting any required records and documentation not already in our possession. BLX always tries to identify the most efficient and cost-effective sources for obtaining the required legal documents and investment records.

Verify the Need for Analysis To avoid unnecessary work, as soon as basic documentation is available for a particular bond issue, we verify that the issue is, in fact, subject to the rebate requirement. If so, we seek any readily ascertainable facts and circumstances which would allow us to conclude (a) that no positive arbitrage could have been generated or (b) that there would be no value in knowing exactly how much negative arbitrage had been incurred.

Create BLX Database Tracking Once the need for analysis is confirmed, we open the necessary files in the firm's records center and enter the subject transactions in our extensive SQL database tracking system. This ensures that reports are delivered in a timely fashion and that all pertinent details of a particular transaction can be accessed by the BLX professionals that will be involved in the production, review, and delivery of the analysis.

Assign a Primary Consultant The transaction is assigned to a consultant based on issue type, complexity, similarity to prior analyses prepared by that consultant, and the consultant's current work load. At this time, or as soon thereafter as practicable, we also determine whether it is legally required or otherwise advisable to undertake the analysis in conjunction with those for one or more other technically related issues

Conduct Initial Legal Review Working with a BLX Project Manager and/or Orrick Tax Partner, the assigned consultant will review the legal documents of the bond issue to uncover any unusual or unique elements to the transaction which would influence the initial direction of the arbitrage analysis.

B. Financial Modeling

Devise an Initial Approach The consultant reviews relevant materials to determine:

- a) applicable laws, rules, and regulations,
- b) existence and location of "Gross Proceeds" (as that term is defined in the Code),
- c) rebate calculation considerations, and
- d) what general and/or elective exceptions are available to Gross Proceeds of the issue.

Confirm the Approach The consultant obtains approval for his/her recommended approach from the Project Manager.

Calculate the Bond Yield All arbitrage rebate analyses BLX provides include a verification of the bond yield for arbitrage purposes. Yield is calculated in accordance with applicable regulations taking into account any provisions for optional or early redemption and the application of any qualified guarantee fees.

Calculate the Cumulative Rebate Liability The consultant applies the following approach to determining the cumulative rebate liability:

- a) identify and separately accounting for all Gross Proceeds of the bond issue, including those requiring allocation analyses due to "transferred proceeds" and/or "commingled funds" circumstances;
- b) identify and valuing Gross Proceeds that remain unexpended at the Calculation Date;
- c) apply the arbitrage yield to the net non-purpose investments cash flow to determine the future value (cumulative arbitrage liability, penalty-in-lieu of rebate liability, and/or any existing yield restriction liability) of such cash flow;
- d) determine whether alternative allocation and/or valuation methods will improve the initial result;
- e) determine whether applying alternative regulatory provisions will improve the initial result.

C. Review, Optimization and Verification

Managing Consultant Review The consultant's draft is reviewed by a Managing Consultant. Opportunities to optimize and subsequently compare alternative approaches to the analysis are discussed, agreed upon and executed.

Project Manager Review The draft analysis is reviewed by the Project Manager for opportunities to further optimize the analysis. At this level, the review may involve conference calls with other Managing Directors, often including an Orrick Tax Partner. At this level alternative investment strategies will be considered, and the incremental benefits enumerated where appropriate, for presentation to the City under separate cover.

Tax Partner Review The draft report is reviewed by one or more Orrick Tax Partners.

Verification Once all reviews have been completed the consultant incorporates any modifications to the methodology and edits all typographical errors discovered during the review process. The accuracy of the final analysis is verified by the Project Manager.

D. Disbursement

Prepare the Final Report Subsequent to verification, a final report, including the following, will be assembled and delivered to the City on the required date:

- a) documentation to support all calculations;
- b) a summary of methodology employed, major assumptions, conclusions, and any recommendations for changes in record keeping;
- c) a legal opinion attesting that our analysis was prepared in accordance with applicable federal tax law;
- d) any necessary filing materials, including IRS Form 8038-T and payment explanations;
- e) notification, usually under separate cover or verbally, of any problems and/or opportunities of which we became aware during the course of our analysis.

Prepare the Status Report We provide a rebate status report of all outstanding issues which sets forth the arbitrage yield, temporary/spend down restrictions and deadlines, next rebate calculation date, and the most recently calculated rebate liability.

Update BLX Database Tracking System The consultant will update the relevant elements of our database tracking system, to allow BLX in the future to quickly access and compare each of our client's bond issues under engagement, and to automatically notify the BLX consultant in advance of the next anticipated computation date.

Update and Maintain Records Lastly, the consultant will organize all documents and records gathered in support of the recently completed calculations for placement in the red-well file created to store the historical information relating to each individual bond issue. Each file is tracked using a bar code mechanism and will either be kept in BLX's offices or sent to offsite storage for long term safekeeping. BLX has never discarded any information relating to any calculations performed and is often the only existing member of a financing team in possession of a full set of documents and records.

E. Follow up

Confirmation Subsequent to delivery of the report, the assigned consultant will call the City to make sure it is in possession of the report, that the service has been executed to its satisfaction, and to answer any questions the City may have regarding the analysis performed.

Methodological Discretion

Many firms view arbitrage rebate, and thus their own services, as an after-the-fact accounting function. Correspondingly, their technology and resources are sufficient only to identify, in many cases, the simplest arbitrage rebate result for a given bond issue. They then just move on to the next project. No attempt is made to pursue the optimal result to a given analysis through alternate valuation methodologies or beneficial elections, nor is any attempt made to help the issuer to integrate arbitrage results into a general financing strategy. Such firms seem even to state proudly that "arbitrage rebate is all they do," as if it makes sense to isolate tax compliance matters from other financing decisions.

BLX regularly provides support to its clients in a variety of areas outside the scope of a traditional arbitrage consulting engagement. The following are examples of circumstances in which we would apply methodological discretion. Most of these have applied to work we have done for the City over the years.

Commingled Funds: Commingled funds arise when gross proceeds of a bond issue that are subject to the arbitrage requirements are commingled with any other type(s) of monies (including gross proceeds that are eligible for an exception, proceeds of another tax-exempt bond issue, or non-bond proceeds). This can be especially relevant in the context of replacement refundings, financings that have both taxable and tax-exempt components, parity reserve funds, and variable rate issues. An "allocation analysis" must be undertaken to allocate (legally and to the optimal economic effect) investments and or expenditures to the various types of monies. Various consistently applied methodologies are allowed by the tax regulations. Which methodologies are finally applied will be determined by the parameters of the particular bond issue. Failing to identify and properly treat commingled funds will result in an incorrect calculation of arbitrage liability.

Universal Cap Provisions of the Tax Regulations: Generally, the Universal Cap provisions state that, starting (at the latest) with the end of the first bond year that follows the second anniversary, the balance of gross proceeds allocated to a bond issue for arbitrage rebate purposes must not exceed the value of the outstanding bonds. A legally accurate and economically optimal application of the Universal Cap provisions is not within the capabilities of most arbitrage rebate compliance firms, yet this is one of the most important areas requiring methodological discretion to arrive at the most favorable result. We would encourage the City to look for evidence of expertise in this area in all arbitrage rebate proposals it receives.

Variable Rate Bonds: Variable rate bonds present a unique set of challenges in determining the best arbitrage rebate result for a given issue. Because the balance of nonpurpose investments of a given issue is rarely the same as the balance of outstanding bonds (aside perhaps on the date of issue), the tax regulations allow an issuer to select among a number of different "yield period" scenarios within the five-year reporting period. This is above and beyond the traditional flexibility to change the bond year. In cases where the yield on the bonds declines after all or most of the proceeds have been spent, issuers can be presented with a surprise positive arbitrage liability. Careful bond year selection and yield period optimization can address this problem. However, this can be a demanding task, especially when rates have been volatile in a given five-year period. In our experience, we are the only firm in the country capable of effectively dealing with the most complex of circumstances of this type.

Transferred Proceeds: Transferred proceeds analyses can give rise to differing, often incorrect, methodological approaches among arbitrage consulting firms. Transferred proceeds arise in connection with refunding and refunded bonds and can significantly complicate the process of identifying the gross proceeds of a particular bond issue. BLX has unmatched experience in these matters, having performed such analyses for virtually every issuer type and tax-exempt debt instrument. As in the case of commingled funds, poorly prepared transferred proceed analyses can accrue significant unnecessary monetary costs to the issuer or cause unnecessary scrutiny from investors and regulators due to noncompliance with the Regulations. Transferred proceeds analyses are among the most demanding in the public finance industry, and it should not be assumed that all arbitrage consultants are competent to perform the most difficult of such analyses.

Market vs. Present Value of Securities: In addition to flexible allocation methodology, the Regulations allow several methods of valuing securities held as of a computation date, transferred proceeds date, or other applicable allocation date. Because arbitrage rebate analyses are based on the nonpurpose payments and receipts through computation and transferred proceeds dates, securities held as of such dates must be valued to represent a receipt or disposition of principal and accrued interest. The tax regulations allow such valuations to be determined based on (i) market value, (ii) present (accrued) value, or (iii) plain par (i.e., a security purchased with a de minimis amount of original issue discount or premium), and the choice can have tremendous impact on the bottom line rebate liability. BLX evaluates the merits of these three valuation methods on a case-by-case basis, and apprises the client of the advantages and consequences associated with each.

Unlike the case with commingled funds or transferred proceeds, a consultant who foregoes comparing market vs. present value of securities in the process of calculating the arbitrage liability does not risk preparing an incorrect analysis (excepting a small subset of circumstances where a particular valuation methodology is required by the regulations). Rather, the consultant risks preparing a less than optimal analysis of the arbitrage liability. Since we believe that an arbitrage analysis is a valuable tool for investment planning and monitoring, such inefficient analyses may have undesirable, and unexpected, results.

Optional Elections: Opportunities to apply beneficial elections often surface with regard to parity reserve and similar commingled fund structures, refundings, variable rate bond structures, and structures where little precedent exists with regard to how the arbitrage rebate and yield restriction regulations should apply. BLX has demonstrable experience and success in identifying such opportunities. Furthermore, the integration of Orrick's expert resources in the execution of the resultant analyses is imperative in the validation of such analyses. Identifying and successfully incorporating optional elections into arbitrage analyses can have a major impact on the bottom line arbitrage rebate liability.

Given the size and breadth of our arbitrage rebate consulting practice, the technical abilities of our consultants, and the invaluable legal resources at our disposal, we have applied our expertise in each of the areas above literally hundreds (in some cases thousands) of times. We would be pleased to provide any number of specific examples upon request. In some cases our experience with a certain type of analysis exceeds the experience of other firms' entire practice.

3) RECORDS RETENTION POLICY

Records retention policy surrounding the work papers utilized for the arbitrage rebate calculation.

BLX will maintain printed copies of all investment records, arbitrage rebate reports and bond documents as well as a PDF version of all arbitrage rebate analyses prepared for a given issue for at least six years after a given issue's final maturity date, as well as provide assistance and consultation for records and documentation retention. Since our founding over 23 years ago, we have kept all records in connection with all our engagements.

Through our current rebate engagement with the City, we have accumulated the required documentation, including relevant official statements, tax certificates, bond resolutions, verification reports, and other various documents, for all currently outstanding bond issues.

4) AVAILABILITY

The firm's staff availability to City staff for consultation (including the firm's local presence, if any) and how you would maintain communication with City staff on the firm's responsibilities under the contract.

BLX takes an individualized approach to providing arbitrage compliance services. Open communication allows us to achieve a clear understanding of the unique characteristics, circumstances, and objectives of each client. As described in the proposal, Glenn Casterline and Nancy Kummer will serve as Co-Project Managers.

BLX personnel will consult with the City personnel on a regular basis with regard to (1) technical application of the Treasury regulations (2) pending or finalized modifications to the Treasury regulations (3) optimal investment vehicles for upcoming and outstanding bond issues (4) modifications to the City's procedures that may make the administration of the engagement more efficient (5) questions about investments, financial structures or the Treasury regulations not anticipated in this response.

Issuer education is an important aspect of our arbitrage consulting services; we would recommend that the City demand such a commitment from whichever firm it selects.

We propose that the contemplated project be managed from our Los Angeles office, which is staffed with 20 full time consultants. Additional BLX professionals from our Dallas, Phoenix, New York, and Tampa offices, staffed with more than 25 additional arbitrage rebate compliance professionals, will be available as necessary.

Proposed Office

BLX Group – Los Angeles

777 S. Figueroa Street, Suite 3200

Los Angeles, CA 90017

PH (213) 612-2200 / FX (213) 612-2499

Furthermore, BLX possesses a unique combination of relevant experience, resources, and expertise required to (1) consistently identify the lowest legally permissible rebate liability on the immediate and all related bond issues, (2) provide timely service with minimal imposition on City staff, (3) advise the City on how best to integrate arbitrage considerations into its overall financing and investment strategies and (4) serve as a resource for the City. Municipal issuers that hold their rebate consultant to any lesser standards often invite exposure to substantial direct, indirect, and opportunity cost.

BLX is uniquely positioned to meet any scheduled requirements, as well as to respond quickly to any requests for additional support outside the traditional scope of an arbitrage services engagement. As mentioned, our internal tracking software notifies the members of the assigned professionals well in advance of scheduled computation dates, allowing us to maintain smooth work-flow and react to any unforeseen circumstances. For many smaller or less technically capable firms, an engagement with the City might represent a significant strain on firm resources. Not so with BLX; we have the additional capacity to consistently exceed the City's expectations with regard to timely and accurate reporting.

Resumes of key personnel who would be assigned to this contract.

The Project Team that BLX will assign to work with the City consists of BLX's most experienced and appropriately skilled professionals. All team members will be available on a full-time basis. Glenn Casterline will serve as Client Service Manager and will address any day-to-day concerns and/or needs in connection with our proposed engagement. He will also assist with analytical strategy and report design. Nancy Kummer will serve as Co-Project Manager and in addition to establishing strategy and design with Mr. Casterline will coordinate efforts of other team members. Daniel Chang and Michelle Chung will lead the analytical process and report production, with support from other BLX professionals as necessary. Larry Sobel, Orrick Senior Tax Partner, will provide the legal analysis which is an integral part of our services.

Mr. Sobel is not simply a sole-practitioner like that available to other, smaller arbitrage consulting firms; rather he represents the Orrick Tax Group, the most highly-regarded public finance tax counsel group of its kind in the country.

Having provided arbitrage calculation and related consulting services to hundreds of municipalities across the country, BLX professionals are widely considered to be among the nation's leading non-attorney experts in tax matters relating to municipal bond financing. We are confident that the collective experience of the core team presented below exceeds that proposed by any other firm, in some cases even exceeding the experience of the entire firm.

3. FEE SCHEDULE

Please provide a schedule of all applicable fees and charges. Please clearly identify any one-time charges.

When comparing the fees listed below to those of other firms, the City should keep in mind that BLX does not attach additional fees for the legal consultation provided by Orrick's expert tax counsel in the preparation of rebate analyses.

The fees listed below would apply to any prospective issues of the City added to the engagement during the initial and any expended contract periods.

Base Fee Service	Fee
Report Fee (per report)	$995
Additional Fee (per report, as appropriate)
Computation Period in excess of 12 Month (per additional year or fraction thereof)	$150

It is always our goal to provide premium services to our clients, but we are firmly committed to NOT recommending calculations which appear to be unneeded. We would be doing the City, our client, a disservice if we insisted on calculations that are unnecessary.

Though BLX is perfectly capable of performing annual calculations, we want to clarify that the IRS does not require public agencies to perform calculations on an annual basis. The IRS requires public agencies to make rebate payments every 5 years. We mention this considering there are instances when annual calculations provide no value, though the cost of the analysis is incurred. BLX is sensitive to these instances and does not require their clients to perform annual calculations. We prefer discussing the timing of future calculations following the delivery of our most recent analysis. This allows our clients to avoid unnecessary costs for an analysis that may not be much different from the previous year's analysis.

It is for this reason that we included an "Additional Fee" of $150 for each year beyond a one year computation period. Tracking 4 years of investment cash flows takes more time than tracking just one year of cash flows and, therefore, the additional fee is assessed to compensate for the time needed to track the additional year(s). Below is an example of how the "Additional Fee" would be applied.

Example: BLX performs an initial calculation in 2012 for one of the City's COPS that were issued in 2011. The fee for that analysis is $995. Additionally, our analysis indicates that the 2011 COPs incurred $750,000 of NEGATIVE arbitrage. We then discuss the outcome of the analysis with City staff along with the timing of future analyses and conclude that we will not perform another calculation until 2016, the 5th Certificate Year. In 2016, we will perform another calculation and the fee for it will be $1,445 [$995 report fee (covering the period from 2012 to 2013) + $450 ($150*3 years (2013 through 2016))].

Other Expenses

Training and Communication: Please note that BLX does not charge hourly rates for phone calls or any other fees such as client visits, meetings, or training sessions.

Issuer education is very important to us; we would be pleased to provide an on-site training session at the City's request at no additional charge. Additionally, open communication allows BLX to achieve a clear understanding of the unique characteristics, circumstances, and objectives of each client. Daily communications will be over the telephone and/or email, as the City prefers, also at no additional charge.

Travel Reimbursement: BLX will not require the City to reimburse it for travel expenses.
