In the Abstract: Midcentury San Diego Painting and Sculpture

August 15—November 1

Ed Garman, Variation of a Structure No. 52, 1965.

In the Abstract exhibition presents a lively continuum of works of regional modernist pioneers that can be considered abstract, from purely nonobjective works to those that deliberately modify, distort, or exaggerate subjective elements.

Through a wide variety of paintings, sculpture, and works in other media, In the Abstract provides an important historical cross-section of the San Diego mid-century art community.

Exhibition Reception—Aug 22
6-8 p.m.

Walk & Talk with Curator—Sept 29
6:30—8 p.m.

Oceanside International Film Festival

August 9—16

Website

Established in 2009, Oceanside International Film Festival is an opportunity for independent filmmakers to have their work screened and judged. It also gives film buffs a jump-start on viewing local and international films at a place known for its rich history, beautiful beaches, and artistic freedom.

Don't miss opportunities to see your favorite celebrity actors on the big screen in independent films. Noteworthy performances are by Tom Sizemore and Lochlyn Munro in The Age of Reason (Aug 11). Enjoy a cast of your faves with Bailee Madison (known for Bridge to Terabithia, Just Go With It), Hailee Steinfeld (Ender's Game, Academy Award nominee – True Grit), J.K. Simmons (Academy Award winner – Whiplash, widely known as newspaper boss in the Spiderman series), Jackson Rathbone (Twilight Franchise), James Van Der Beek (Dawson's Creek), all starring in The Magic Bracelet (Aug 14). How about Star Trek's Zachary Quinto and Mad Men's Robert Baker in a sci-fi film The Future Perfect (Aug 14)? Make sure to see Bruce Greenwood in WildLike, Luke Perry in Flat Chested, and also Imminent Threat documentary produced by actor James Cromwell, an Academy Award nominee (all Aug 15).

From a red carpet opening evening to the closing awards ceremony and after party, there's something to please everyone!
