

CITY OF OCEANSIDE

OCEANSIDE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Oceanside Public Library's Summer Reading program is in full swing and there are plenty of new and exciting titles in our collection to choose from for your next great read.

Worried we won't have that bestseller you've been looking for? A great way to get your hands on books that have a long holds list is to check out our Ready Reads collection, which features our most popular titles, including The Nest by Cynthia D'Aprix Sweeney and bestselling mystery author David Baldacci's latest novel, The Last Mile, as well as bestsellers such as The Girls by Emma Cline and The Games by James Patterson. Ready Reads titles have a limited check-out period (7 days) with no holds or renewals and are available on a first-come, first-served basis, so hurry over to see what we have in stock!

Also, be sure to check out the Staff Picks displays at both of our library locations. This month's theme is short stories and library staff has provided some great recommendations for when you're in the mood for something short and sweet.

Stay cool and keep reading! We hope to see you soon at our Civic Center Library, Mission Branch Library, or one of our 5+ bookmobile stops.

MONDAY CLUB

Monday Club is a weekly program at the Oceanside Public Library for adults with developmental disabilities. Every Monday from 1 – 2:30 at the Civic Center Library we host games, crafts and educational activity sessions.

The goal of Monday Club is to provide a safe space for adults with developmental disabilities to meet and participate in activities together. The Library will offer an activity session each week, including game sessions, craft sessions, and library education and activity sessions.

The program is free and all supplies will be provided. Caregivers and teachers are encouraged to attend, participants in need of supervision must be accompanied by caregiver.

For questions, please contact the Oceanside Public Library at (760) 435-5600.
