

NEW PUBLIC ART DOWNTOWN OCEANSIDE

The Arts Commission, under the direction of the Oceanside Public Library, considers and makes recommendations to the City Council on the development and promotion of performing and fine arts programs, arts facilities, and policies pertaining to cultural enhancement. With the City of Oceanside Arts Commission's input, a new kinetic sculpture by artist Andrew Carson was installed at the entrance of North Beach Promenade/SALT Project at Pier View Way and Cleveland Street.

Sculptor Andrew Carson has work installed in nearly all fifty states and beyond. Carson says he “creates sculpture to interact with people and solve riddles of landscape both interior and exterior. Using a varied palette—electronics, illustration, the camera and mechanical systems, I work very hard for elegant solutions for demanding problems of space.”

For information on this interesting sculptor, please visit www.windsculpture.com.

For information on Oceanside Arts Commission, please visit the City website.

