

OCEANSIDE COVID-19 ESTIMATED ACTIVE CASES

This graph shows the estimated active COVID-19 cases in the City of Oceanside. The County of San Diego does not report recovered cases nor deaths at a jurisdiction level. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends that people who test positive for COVID-19 stay isolated for at least 10 days from the date that a person tests positive for COVID-19 and possibly up to 20 days for persons who continue to show symptoms. The CDC also recommends that people who have been exposed to someone with COVID-19 self-quarantine for 14 days. The methodology used to derive the estimated active cases is to remove positive cases that are more than 14 days old based on the recommendations set by the CDC. The estimated active cases is only an estimate for illustrative purposes. This estimate is based on best available data however the City of Oceanside does not represent that this information is accurate or correct.
